

Voters in Romulus elect challenger

By JIM CARAVALLAH

After months of being "deluged" by election campaign literature, the voters of Romulus made their choice by electing the former Romulus Township Supervisor and state senator, Terry L. Troutt, as mayor. Troutt unseated the incumbent mayor, Hyle J. Carmichael.

Troutt won the mayoralty with 2,791 votes, compared to Carmichael's 2,457.

The city election was rocked by charges and counter-charges of corruption and mismanagement and threats of suits and investigations. And even Romulus residents got into the act, as they slung embarrassing questions at the candidates last week at a Jaycee-sponsored "Meet the Candidate Night."

CARMICHAEL, 57, of 37526 Walnut St., became mayor in the city's first election after incorporation in 1970. He had been a banker for 30 years prior to his mayoral election. Carmichael is the father of one child. His wife, Virginia, died less than one month ago. Troutt, 54, of 16365 Farnum St., was township supervisor from 1955 to 1963. He served in the Michigan State Senate in 1964. Troutt is married and the father of two children.

The city mayoral race wasn't the only one decided by the voters yesterday.

Two clerk candidates, incumbent Leonard Folmar and challenger, Gary Bingamen, were pitted against each other on the ballot.

FOLMAR, 32, a life-long resident of the city, lives at 35856 Cypress St. He has served as Romulus City Clerk since the city's incorporation in 1970.

Folmar is a graduate of Ferris State College.

Bingamen, 27, of 35511 Stephanie Dr., is a graduate of Oakland University. A veteran of the Vietnamese war, he presently is the manager of sales and the food and beverage department at the Sheraton Metro Inn in Romulus.

Folmar retained the clerk's post with 2505 votes, as against 2,393 garnered by Bingamen.

IN THE TREASURER'S race, incumbent Albert Ginski, was pitted against the challenger, John B. Lewkowicz.

Ginski, 48, a 22-year resident of the city, lives at 36915 Ferndale. Prior to being elected as clerk in 1970, Ginski owned and operated Kratts Market.

Lewkowicz, 55, of 36723 Grant Rd., is an employee of the North American International Timken Division. He has served on the city's board of canvassers, the city's water commission and on the Romulus Board of Education.

Lewkowicz unseated incumbent treasurer Ginski by polling 2,428 votes compared to Ginski's 2,364.

FOURTEEN candidates, including four incumbents, sought seven council seats in the election.

Running were incumbents Fred Junior Block, 49, of 15099 Middlebelt Rd.; William M. Oakley, 42, of 9875 Tobine Rd.; Jimmie C. Raspberry, 52, of 36254 Park Place, and James Stewart, 47, of 7164 Harrison Rd.

The council challengers were: Richard Butz, 47, of 38061 Walnut St.; Lnn Coleman, 32, of 6014 Colorado Ave.; Perry C. Gray, 40, of 35267 Beverly Rd.; Joan A. Lee, 29, of 28433

Cherry St.; Robert H. Martin, 43, of 9533 Essex Rd.; Beverly McAnally, 46, of 6330

Hyde Park; Dolores E. Ristow, 37, of 12080 Wayne Rd.; Donald J. Treder, 38, of 36889 Mario Ann Ct.; Jack H. Trumble, 40, of 24803 Goddard Rd.; and Gilbert E. White Jr., 38, of 10015 Romaine St.

The seven council seats were won by Mrs. McAnally with 2,576; Coleman, 2,371; Oakley, 2,199; Mrs. Lee, 2,409; Stewart, 2,196; Trumbul, 2,182; and Block, 2,151.

On the losing ledger were Butz, 2,141; Martin, 2,146; Raspberry, 1,891; Treder, 1,965; Mrs. Ristow, 1,863; White, 1,751; and Gray, 1,726.

The three charter amendments to improve city government were approved by the voters.

City officials protesting plans to divert sewage

By JIM CARAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Writer

City officials protested a plan to divert treated sewage through Belleville in an effort to dump it in the Huron River at French Landing.

Mayor Royce Smith, and city attorney B. Ward Smith, appeared before the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR) public hearing on the proposed "Water Quality Management Program" for the Huron River Basin last week.

"The City of Belleville did not receive official notice of this hearing, and objects to plans announced by the DNR for diverting waste water through the city limits," the city attorney said. "Based on the information we have, it appears as though sewage lines will be routed down Columbia Street and eastward on Savage Road to a point on the Huron River below Belleville Lake.

"THE CITY finds this plan unacceptable."

The proposal opposed by the city calls for the construction of a sanitary sewer one connecting Ypsilanti and Ypsilanti Township with the Huron River south of Belleville Lake.

The proposal was designed to upgrade the water quality of Ford Lake and Belleville Lake by diverting the treated waste south of the two-lake chain.

However, the city's engineer estimates that the plan would require the installation of a line six-feet in diameter 20 feet underground.

"WE WOULD oppose such construction," the attorney told the three-man DNR panel. "There is undeveloped land south of Belleville which could be used for the line, rather than tearing up our developed area.

"Until we have detailed plans and specifications on the project, we will have to oppose it."

'The city finds this plan unacceptable'

The plan, called an "Interim Waste Water Management Plan for the Huron River Basin," was devised to alleviate the waste treatment load on city's lining the river until a "super sewer" treatment plant can be constructed in Flat Rock sometime before 1990.

In total, the interim plan calls for the expansion of a waste treatment plant in Ann Arbor and in Ypsilanti, and Walled Lake, along with the abandonment of an Ypsilanti treatment plant and the construction of a new treatment plant in Commerce Township.

THE PLAN also calls for the construction of a "Hannan Road Interceptor" sewer line between southern Oakland County and the Huron River. The interceptor, along with the line which would divert the sanitary sewer flow through Belleville, would connect with the Huron River at French Landing.

The "interim plan" eventually will be combined into the proposed $224 million "super sewer" plan for carrying water from throughout the Huron River Basin to Flat Rock treatment plant.

Plans for the "super sewer," though announced last year, have been stalled by a lack of federal funds slated for construction of the project.

THE ATTORNEY told the committee: "The City of Belleville objects to the cost of his project being absorbed by it, because it has constructed a system with adequate flowage for double its present size."

"We're concerned about the long-term effects of this plan on Belleville's development."

Mayor Smith, following the meeting, said he is concerned with the plan, "because we have adequate sewage for double our population now."

"If this plan turns out to work to the detriment of Belleville, and it's growth," Smith said, "I'd be willing to go to court to oppose it."

THE HEARING, held in Romulus, was called to sample public opinion on the proposed "interim plan."

In dispute

Court orders fact-finding

By HENRY CANTIN

The teacher contract dispute between the Van Buren Board of Education and the Van Buren Education Association (VBEA) will go to fact-finding.

Fact-finding in the long delayed contract settlement on a proposed new 1973-74 contract was ordered following a hearing last Wednesday before Wayne County Circuit Court Judge James N. Canham.

The state labor mediator, Gordon Lee, and attorneys for both the board of education and the association met with the judge, who ordered Lee to begin fact-finding as soon as possible.

VAN BUREN School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz and William Houston, president of the VBEA, both said that fact-finding results would not be binding.

The fact-finder selected to investigate school district finances will not issue a binding order, but make suggestions as to solving the dispute or what steps should be taken in further negotiations, they added.

The superintendent said that if the judge had ordered binding fact-finding, "we would have to obey whatever rulings the fact-finders come up with."

Houston said that the teachers were disappointed with the court order and added: "This decision to go fact-finding that is not binding on either side is not really a decision at all. It just prolongs what we've been doing already. However we will comply with the ruling."

ON MONDAY Houston said he still is waiting for a time for the fact-finder's hearings.

Contract negotiations broke down in September. The teachers subsequently voted to "withhold their services."

The strike that followed on Sept. 12 suspended classes, which were resumed 12 days later when Canham issued an injunction against the strike.

The major issues of the contract dispute involve salary ranges, class size and fringe benefits.

The board of education originally offered a three per cent salary boost. The association demanded a seven per cent wage hike, it later reduced to 6.7 per cent.

The school board hiked its offer to four per cent salary increase.

Jobs available in city; Center places employees

'I get calls on two or three jobs from area employers.'

If there's unemployment in Romulus, it isn't entirely because jobs aren't available. Cannel Jerald, job placement director of the Romulus Help and Job Placement Center, could advertise "have we got the jobs for you" with the list of employers, and employment offers he's received in his less than a month on the job.

"We've already placed 15 people of 39 who have applied for help during my short time here," Jerald said. "But, you can't say that's the maximum amount of jobs available, because I have four or five other jobs, which some of the people have turned down. And every day, I get calls on two or three jobs from Romulus area employers."

JERALD has contacted between 250 and 300 employers in the Romulus area, and says 90 per cent of those he's talked with want to cooperate and advertise open positions with him.

"They know we'll have clients for those jobs," he added. "And they also know we are operating on a no fee basis, so it's cheaper for them to place people through us."

Jerald explained that he has obtained jobs for Romulus residents aged 16 to 49, and that his applications on file cover approximately the same age group.

"You can't say there's any one segment which needs the most help," he said. "But the most promising thing I've found is that the jobs are available."

SOME OF THE JOBS—such as truck driver, set-up operators, cement finishers, pre-cast concrete workers, force press operators and turn press operators, along with secretarial openings—go vacant for some time because those who apply do not have the skill.

"We try to place a skilled person in each job, suiting his experience and temperament to the position," Jerald said. "But, if a person really needs a job, and is willing to do anything, we have something for him."

Right now, Jerald has openings for a gasoline station worker, secretaries and a bakery worker.

"Some people have turned down those jobs at this point, but I'm confident we'll find someone for the position."

The job placement aspect of Romulus' Help Center functions a bit differently from other job placement operations, according to Jerald. He's confident he will obtain both clients and jobs in the future.

4-H management program helps young people make decisions

Today's young people want to be in on decision-making. Particularly, they want to take responsibility in managing their own affairs. And they want decisions that affect preparation for a career, their environment and lifestyle. Helping 4-H boys and girls become decision-makers, and better managers of their lives, whether at home, at school, or in the community, is the 4-H home management program. Sponsored by Tupperware

Home Parties, 4-Hers in the home management program look at all of the alternatives. THEY TEST one or more and then make decisions and choices, based on their own wants, needs and the resources available to them. With the assistance of the Cooperative Extension Service, they are encouraged to think of their own personal values, goals and experiences. And then to weigh their decisions and the affect on themselves, their family and communities.

Tupperware provides incentives and recognition for 4-H decision-makers. Up to four medals of honor were awarded in each county. And a winner from each state receives an expense-paid trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29.

During the annual 4-H event, eight national winners are announced, with each receiving a $700 scholarship.

ONE 1972 national winner in the 4-H home management program feels that "good management is a means to accomplish your many objectives."

Sharon Walker, of Davis, Calif., helped influence many of the decisions when her family bought a new home. She feels that management consists of "a series of decisions that make up the process of using your resources, including skills, knowledge and ability to work with other people, as well as money and other physical resources to achieve your goals".

For more information on 4-H home management and the art of decision-making contact the county extension office.

Hospital offers diabetes tests

Free blood-screening tests to detect diabetes will be available at the Belvil Community Hospital, 105 Main St., Belleville, during the annual observance of Diabetes Week Nov. 12-16.

Belvil Community Hospital is among 108 Michigan hospitals and health departments and local medical societies participating in the program.

The free blood-screening tests will be administered from 10 a.m. to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m. The tests must be administered two hours after eating.

"Although a positive screening test is not a definite diagnosis of diabetes, it does indicate that the disease may be present," said the hospital administrator, William E. Hinchee.

Cub Scouts hold first meet

Cub Scout Troop No. 1739 of Romulus recently held its first meeting of the school year at Harrison Elementary School.

The meeting was opened by Lee Pingelley, who gave the "Pledge of Allegiance." The report of the secretary-treasurer was given by Dolly Steffen. The meeting was conducted by the cubmaster, Raymond Ziegler.

After his request for more parent cooperation, citing the need for more den mothers and a Webelo leader, he recruited Mrs. Susan Randal as a den mother and Henry Waldrop as new Webelo leader.

Paul Rudziak was named as most-decorated Scout in his one year in the program. He has received his bobcat patch, wolf patch with one gold and two silver arrows, bear patch with one gold and four silver arrows, a Project Soar patch, Expo '73 patch, one year pin and Webelo's advancement.

He also is working for his citizen and naturalist patches.

The "Cub Scout Promise" was given by Richard Randal and Brian Vanover before the meeting concluded.

Troop No. 1739, sponsored by the Romulus VFW, still is taking applications from boys between the ages of eight and 11 who are interested in becoming Boy Scouts.

The troop meets the fourth Wednesday of each month at the Harrison school at 7:30 p.m. For additional information, call Mrs. Rudziak at 941-5239.

A THOUGHT TO REMEMBER

BY HAROLD REDISKE, DIRECTOR

People today have lots of things on their minds. Consequently, people forget things quickly...This is the one and only reason why we hear and hear and hear the same, same, same words in so many T.V. commercials. A good example of how fast people forget can be shown in this way.

Did you read yesterday's paper? With only one day gone by, think back and see if you can quote the front page headline! If you can, you are an exception. Most people can't. Better yet, as you read this thought which appears on an inside page of this paper, can you accurately quote the headline you read on page one of this paper you are NOW reading? Don't feel badly if you can't. It just goes to show how most people can and do forget so quickly.

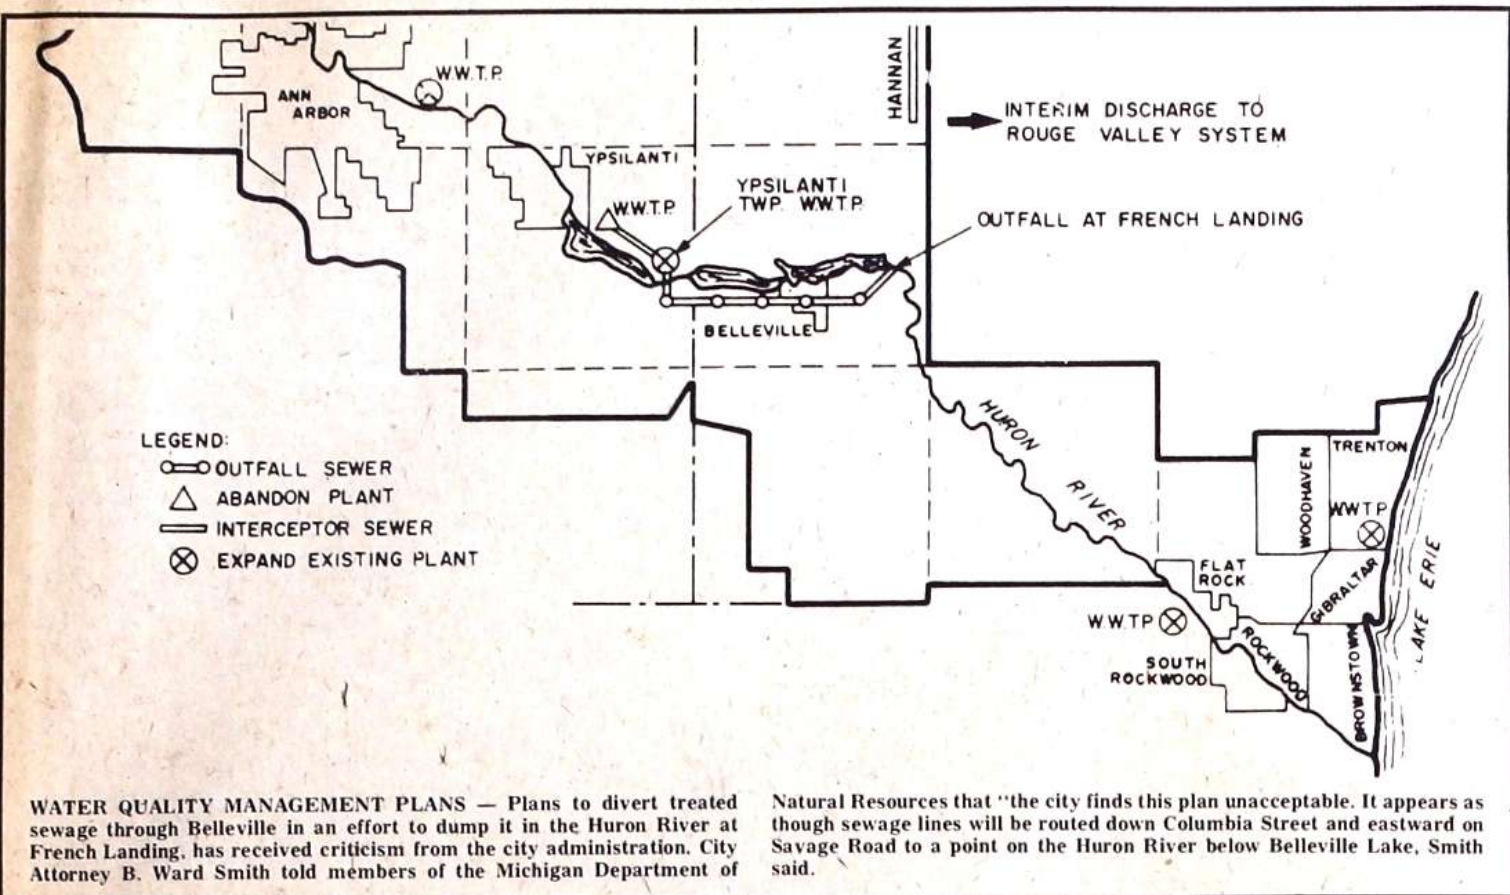

There is one thing in life most people rarely forget - kindness! Only ungrateful people forget acts of kindness, but, fortunately, most people are grateful. An excellent example of how kindness is remembered is shown in the parable of the Good Samaritan. Nearly everyone knows and remembers the story, churchgoer or not. Yet, in scripture, the story of the Good Samaritan is told only ONCE! Just a few short lines! Yes, - kindness is remembered and the best way to be remembered is to be kind...

Commuter train is sought for area

Instead of jamming the highways from here to Detroit each morning, commuters from Western Wayne County could hop on a train to downtown Detroit if a railway passengers lobby wins its fight for a commuter railway line from Ann Arbor to Detroit.

The Michigan Association of Railroad Passengers is organizing a state club for the purpose of lobbying in the state legislature for mass transit funds for trains, said John DeLora, a Grosse Pointe policeman.

The proposed commuter railway project would have stops in Canton, Wayne, Elio, Inkster and Dearborn for Western Wayne County residents who work downtown.

Nationally the railway passengers lobby has opposed the highway lobby in Washington in its effort to obtain better rail service for passengers, DeLora said. But the lobby presently is trying to extend itself into several states to improve rail service as mass transportation.

A similar organization in Vermont has been successful in bringing rail service to Vermont, DeLora added.

In Michigan, the proposed organization will lobby first for a Port Huron to Chicago service, then the group will turn its efforts toward the Detroit service from the east to the south.

Members of the lobby group also will be asked to help organize clean-up, fix-up projects for local railway stations when the commuter service begins to become a reality, DeLora said.

For more information, inquiries can be directed to Michigan Association of Railroad Passengers, P.O. Box 6901, Grosse Pointe 48236.

Objecting to policy, people picket

By JIM CARRAVALLAH
Enterprise-Roman Writer

An orderly group of 20 pickets from scattered areas in Wayne and Oakland counties turned out for the People's Community Hospital Authority Board of Directors' meeting recently to protest the board's approval of an abortion procedure policy.

The picketers from Westland, Lincoln Park, Allen Park, Livonia, Redford and Northville came to protest "Supreme Court rulings opposing the voters on abortion" and to lobby for "true representation on the board."

Jim Tucker, a Lincoln Park teacher, said: "We're protesting the adoption of an abortion policy in the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) when more than 75 per cent of the voters in Michigan rejected an abortion law last summer."

"WE DON'T THINK the Supreme Court has the right to overrule the wishes of the voters in Michigan by allowing abortions in tax-financed institutions — and want our PCHA board representatives to know that we protest their adoption of any policy which would permit abortions."

Last month the board adopted a policy outlining the procedures which must be followed in performing abortions after the authority's attorney, Charles Cozadd, informed the board of directors it has no right to deny abortions in a tax-financed institution. The PCHA is partially financed by a four-tenths of a mill levy in its 23-member communities.

The policy allowed abortions in the hospitals of the authority — including Annapolis Hospital in Wayne — providing the medical procedure is performed by physicians knowledgeable of the female reproductive system; the procedure is performed in the department of obstetrics and gynecology; and any physician, nurse or medical technician who does not wish to participate in the abortion procedure is allowed to withdraw without fear of reprisal from the authority.

Tucker believes the authority had the right to deny abortions, based on the action of the Board of Directors of the Alpena General Hospital in Alpena.

"ACCORDING TO an article in a Catholic newspaper circulated throughout the state, the five-man board rejected the right to perform abortions in a 4-1 vote," Tucker said. "They went with the wish of the voters. We want our board to follow suit."

The pickets consisted of representatives of the political "Voice of the Unborn" anti-abortion group and participants in the "Birthright of Western Wayne County" pregnancy counseling program.

The "Birthright" group offers advice to pregnant women on available social and medical services and adoptive programs for newborn infants in an effort to discourage women with unwanted pregnancies from having abortions.

One Westland woman, Candice Woodstock, 27, of 8500

Shari Dr. said: "How come they (the board of directors) can do it (approve an abortion policy) when the voters rejected abortions?"

"MY HUSBAND works hard for his money, and I don't like it used to finance abortions in tax-supported hospitals, especially when abortions were rejected by a 75 per cent margin at the polls."

Tucker said the picketing

And one of the two residents—including 118 other hopefuls—could become the state's seventh millionaire lottery winner.

The two area semi-finalists are Gary Polzin of Belleville and Dorothy Schneider of New Boston.

In addition to the $1,295,000

The two semifinalists were selected from recent $25 winners at last Tuesday's millionaire elimination drawing, where the number 137 was picked.

Pushes strong election reform package

Milliken says primary date should be changed

(Reprinted from Daily Eagle)

By PETE YOST

LANSING (AP) — Proposals to disclose campaign contributors, regular lobbyists and discourage conflicts of interest continue to deluge the Legislature with a special message on ethics and election reform by Gov. William Milliken.

The governor said the amount and source of all money flowing into political coffers of all elected officials in Michigan should be disclosed in reports filed at least five times a year, even in non-election years.

"This is the year to act," said Milliken, who wants lawmakers, to speedily dispatch ethics and election reform legislation this fall.

THE GOVERNOR'S plans parallel those authored by a Special Senate Study Committee on Political Ethics, which issued a 67-page report on legislative proposals one day ahead of Milliken.

Both Milliken and the Senate committee regard public financing of political campaigns through required earmarking of income tax as an interesting idea, but contend it needs further study.

Milliken's campaign disclosure plan would require reporting of "in kind" contributions, such as manpower traditionally provided by labor unions for Democratic candidates.

The governor and the special Senate committee agree contributions should be reported and available for public scrutiny both before and after elections.

Milliken would give the state auditor general authority to see that campaign disclosure laws are obeyed.

THE ATTORNEY general would prosecute violators at the state level and county prosecutors for local elected officials. Those found guilty would be barred from taking office or holding any other elective office for five years.

Would require candidates to disclose sources of financial holdings and of income.

Milliken goes one step further by proposing that every candidate name a single campaign treasurer, a single bank depository and one official campaign committee. Now, candidates may have numerous committees.

Current ceilings on expenditures would be moved because the governor thinks they are "unrealistic, unenforceable, deceptive and misinterpreted."

Lobbyists would be under some unaccustomed public scrutiny under both the Milliken and committee plans.

THEY RECOMMEND quarterly reporting of lobbyists' expenditures which benefit public officials in legislative and executive branches of government.

Milliken said "exemptions can lead to undesired loopholes" and that lobbyists should report all spending on public officials, no matter how small the amount. The Senate committee lists a $25 minimum as the amount that would be reported.

The only requirement under current law is that they register with the state, pay a $5 fee and identify the interests they represent. Many lobbyists don't bother because the law is not enforced.

Milliken would require candidates to disclose sources of financial holdings and of income, but not the amounts.

Elected officials would disclose the amount of holdings and income to the state auditor general, who would keep them confidential unless ordered released by a court.

MILLIKEN SAID his State Board of Ethics created earlier this year needs a legislative stamp of approval to exercise its powers. Powers would include disciplining state employees and top officials caught using public posts for private gain.

A further refinement of a state code of ethics is urged by the governor.

"In his recent speech to the nation, former Vice President Agnew asked whether any profit will result from the tragedy of Watergate and his political demise. I hope so," said Milliken.

The governor also proposed: —Michigan move its fall primary election campaign from the first Tuesday in August to the second Tuesday following Labor Day in September because "general election campaigns are too long."

—Mailing applications for absentee ballots to all registered voters over the age of 65 because "this single reform will encourage a great number of older citizens to exercise their right to vote."

—Appointing members instead of electing them to the State Board of Education "to take politics out of our administration of public schools."

The campaign is over...

Now we must strive to fulfill the pledges

The votes have been counted, and the winners are rejoicing—and the losers are bitter...for the time being.

In any free election process, someone must win and someone must lose—but out of it all the real winner must be the voting citizen...be he a resident of Romulus or Belleville.

For the past several weeks the candidates seeking office in Belleville and Romulus have filled the air with promises, charges and counter-charges.

But the campaign is history at this juncture, and those candidates who won the support of the voting citizenry in yesterday's general elections must practice what they've been preaching.

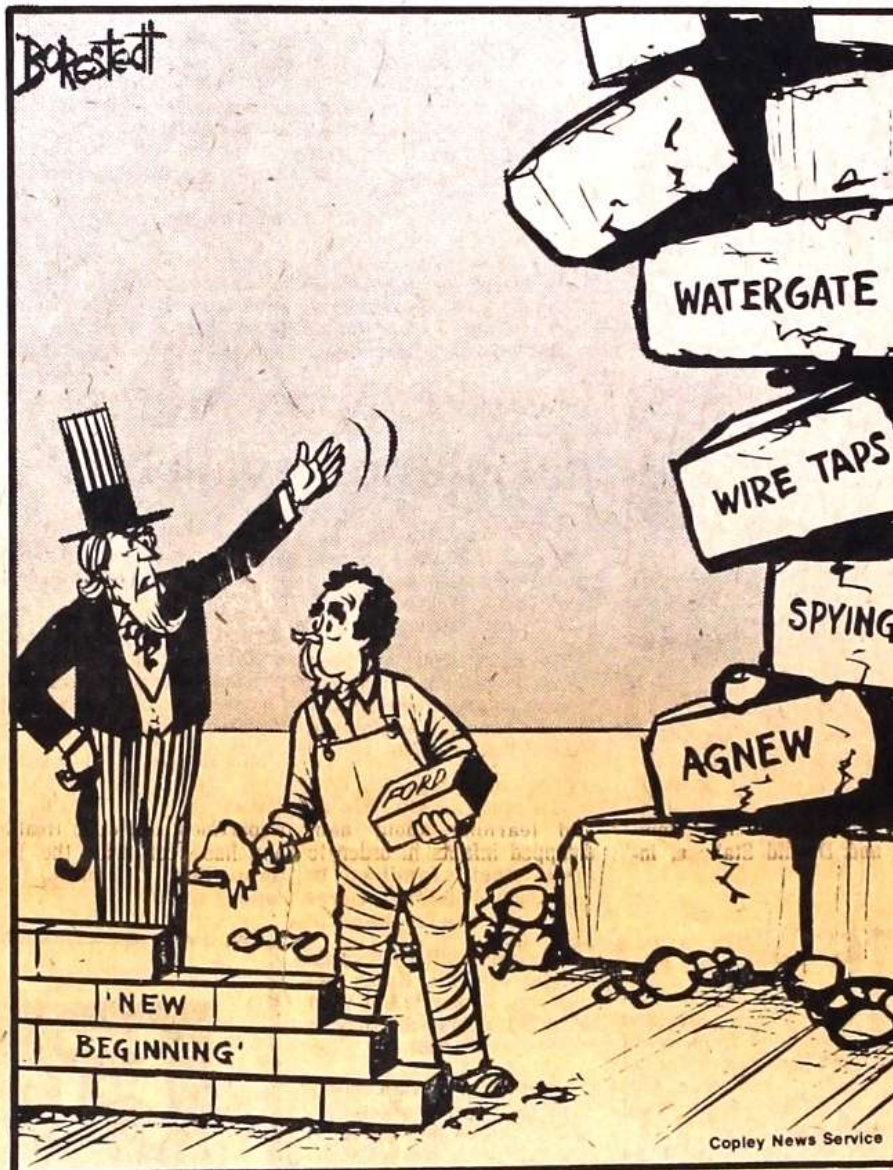

By the same token, the worthy campaign promises of the losing candidates must be heard—if their campaign slogans had any truth.

Too often losing candidates merely drift away until another election day. A welcome mat by the winning candidate "to join the final effort to make this truly an outstanding community" can serve as the link to foster the kind of civic pride and betterment we all want.

The Enterprise-Roman also joins the pledge list to assist the winners—and losers—in getting across new programs for their respective communities.

In last week's editions we publicly announced our preferred candidates, but the election is over and the real challenge now awaits each and every citizen—including this newspaper.

Together, as the print media voice of the communities we service, we can see the fulfillment and realization of the campaign promises of the past several weeks—we can if we practice what we've been preaching.

'That's fine—but how about the old ending?'

Dems set sights on 'party unity'

...and to regain control of governor's office

By BOB BERG
Lansing Bureau Chief

LANSING — Michigan's Democratic Party is busy these days trying to piece together some issues on which it can unite as it tries to wrest control of the governor's office from the Republicans.

The problem isn't an easy one.

The party is still suffering from the trauma inflicted on it last year by the busing controversy. Issues such as crime are taboo because there is little — besides perhaps a general opposition to crime — the party could secure unity on.

At the winter convention in Detroit this year a resolution dealing with that city's controversial STRESS units had to be pigeonholed to prevent a knock down drag out fight.

THE PROBLEM IS to find an area where there is a need and formulate an answer to the problem everyone, or at least most everyone, within the party can agree on.

Then it must be introduced in the legislature in an attempt to pass it. Even at that point, there is the danger the governor will like the idea, help pass it, and take credit for it as he signs it into law.

The first clear example of an issue the party could agree on came with the floating of the idea to repeal the sales tax on food. Food prices are rising for everyone, and the thought of a 4 per cent cut in the food bill can appeal to the most conservative and most liberal Democrat.

NOW A GROUP OF Democrats in state government have come up with another proposal they hope everyone will rally around. They want to restructure the Department of Natural Resources and Public Service Commission to more clearly establish who does what in the field of energy discovery and supply.

The proposal was put forth by House Speaker William A. Ryan, Rep. William Fitzgerald of Detroit and William Ralls, the Democratic member of the Public Service Commission. It is based on the problems created by the fact the DNR and PSC now have joint responsibilities in monitoring the production, distribution and storage of energy in the state.

What the three Democrats want to do is give the DNR sole control over storage and production of energy and the PSC sole control over distribution. The DNR already has sole control over exploration.

The three did not talk to other officials in the DNR or PSC in drawing up their proposals. Fitzgerald, who heads a bipartisan House committee studying the energy crisis, did not consult other members of the committee.

RYAN SAID SUCH consultation can come in the future in hearings before House committees on the legislation. He grinned and said he expects Gov. William G. Milliken will support it "just as I have a history of enthusiastically supporting his programs when they have merit."

The three said the changes are needed to make it much clearer where the lines of responsibility for handling each activity lie in Michigan.

"You cannot get accountability without clear lines of responsibility," Ralls said.

THE DANGERS OF our divided authority over energy safety were dramatically made clear by the Williamsburg incident," he said. "The gas field at the source of the problem was within the jurisdiction of the DNR, to be shifted to PSC jurisdiction when production began. As the gas surfaced at Williamsburg, requiring the town's evacuation, much confusion and delay resulted from the lack of clear cut jurisdiction."

There is no quarrel with the contention of the three that something needs to be done.

But the manner in which their program was drawn up and unveiled is a sure sign election year is around the corner.

Gerald Ford will avoid rubber stamp role

Hart describes VP nominee as 'man of integrity'

Editor's Note — With mounting pressure for the resignation of President Richard Nixon, the confirmation of Vice President-Designate Gerald Ford of Michigan takes on greater importance. This latest report from Washington touches on whether Ford would bend to the President's dictates.

By TOM OCHILTREE
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Congress has received a firm assurance that if it confirms Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R-Mich., as Vice President he will avoid acting as a rubber stamp for President Nixon.

That promise which Ford made to the Senate Rules Committee plus his views on the limited nature of executive privilege seemed to assure his ultimate confirmation to the post vacated by Spiro T. Agnew following Agnew's conviction of federal tax evasion.

Ford experienced a relatively smooth passage before the committee last Thursday. Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., a committee member, strongly supported Ford's prompt confirmation saying such a step by Congress at this trying time could "do much to buttress and reinforce the very stability of our system. Confined in bed with the flu, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., introduced a statement for the record describing Ford "as a man of integrity and sincerity."

During the panel's hearing the only serious doubts raised about Ford had to do with his reputation as a Republican Party loyalist coupled with the fear that the White House

Or.

Choosing his words carefully, Ford declared: "I have always felt I could speak very directly to the President." He made it plain that as Vice President he would function as a two-way — not a one-way — communications link telling Congress what the White House had in mind and also keeping Nixon informed of the mood on Capitol Hill. He favored full consultation.

"Then when a decision has been made and a play has been called, I will abide by that decision," the former University of Michigan football star stressed. "In such a circumstance you don't go out and tackle your own quarterback."

Ford, currently the House Minority Leader, was named by President Nixon to fill the vacancy in the vice presidency under terms of the relatively new 25th Amendment to the Constitution.

With Mrs. Ford looking on from a front seat in the spectators' section of the committee room, Ford answered detailed questions about his personal and political finances.

He drew smiles of approval from the committee when under questioning he testified: "I don't think any person in this country is above the law."

"I feel that I am among friends. However, I ask you only to treat me as true friends treat one another, with directness, with candor, without favor and without guile."

Troubled days

Press freedom is a guarantee against tyranny

By ARCH BOOTH
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

WASHINGTON — Although I am a columnist of sorts, I do not consider myself a journalist. My function is to represent the institution of business, which I am able to do as a guest in the house of journalism.

The house of journalism is a troubled one today. Many newsmen believe the freedom of the press is under increasing assault, from a variety of directions.

As a houseguest and friend-of-the-family, I'd like to make a few comments.

Any attack on the free press is a grave threat to our liberties. Freedom of speech is the kingpin of our society. Without a free flow of uncensored information even the vote would offer little protection against tyranny, since the voter could not be sure of what he was voting on.

ON THE OTHER HAND, simple criticism of the press—even by public officials—should not be interpreted as a threat. And some newsmen seem automatically to interpret it so. If the press can dish it out, it should also be able to take it.

Besides public criticism there are two other things bothering journalists today—with greater justification, I think. The first is whether the courts should be able to force a reporter to reveal information given to him in confidence. The second is whether the government can require a news organization to be "fair."

Reporters have been jailed for refusing to name their sources. Some states have passed "shield" laws to prevent that from happening, and there are bills in Congress to create a federal shield law.

REPORTERS CLAIM that they cannot serve society if citizens are afraid to tip them off to evil doings, which is what will happen—they say—if they can be forced to name their informants.

It's a valid point. Nevertheless, I think shield laws are potentially a greater threat to the press than the consequences of not having them. They are a threat because the government must define that which singles out for special protection. And if the government can say who is a legitimate reporter, then it can also say who is not.

But it is government attempts to make news coverage "fair" that represent the greatest danger of all, partly because the proclaimed goal sounds so praiseworthy.

Broadcasters are presently required by the government to give "fair and balanced" coverage to all sides of controversial issues. Rather than improving the treatment of public issues, that rule has tended to make broadcasters shy away from controversy, for fear of being second-guessed by the Federal Communications Commission.

THE BROADCASTERS are regulated because there is not enough frequency "space" in the electronic spectrum for everyone who wants to broadcast. The airwaves are deemed to be public property, which the government does out to those who meet its standards and agree to "serve the public interest." Everyone acknowledges that some form of government regulation is necessary to parcel out the spectrum space, but most broadcasters do not think the government's writ should extend to program content. Neither do I.

And until very recently no one that I know of even dreamed that the government would try to extend to the print media the same kind of "fairness" rules that are applied to the broadcasters. But that's just what's happened, albeit at the state level.

Not long ago, the supreme court of Florida upheld a 1913 state law requiring that any paper which attacks the "character" or "official record" of a candidate for office must publish that candidate's reply to its charges.

THIS LAW WOULD put the government in the editor's chair. At best, it would inhibit news coverage, as it has with the broadcasters. At worst, it would give the government the means to harass into submission any newspaper that displeased it.

As far as I am concerned, this incredible law is patently unconstitutional, and the sooner that fact is officially confirmed, the better.

Mahalak backs crossing bills

An area state representative has introduced in the fall session of the legislature bills to enable the Michigan Public Service Commission to assist local units of government in paying for construction and maintenance of improvements in railroad grade crossings.

The legislation would make it possible for the state to pay as much as one-half of the local government's costs.

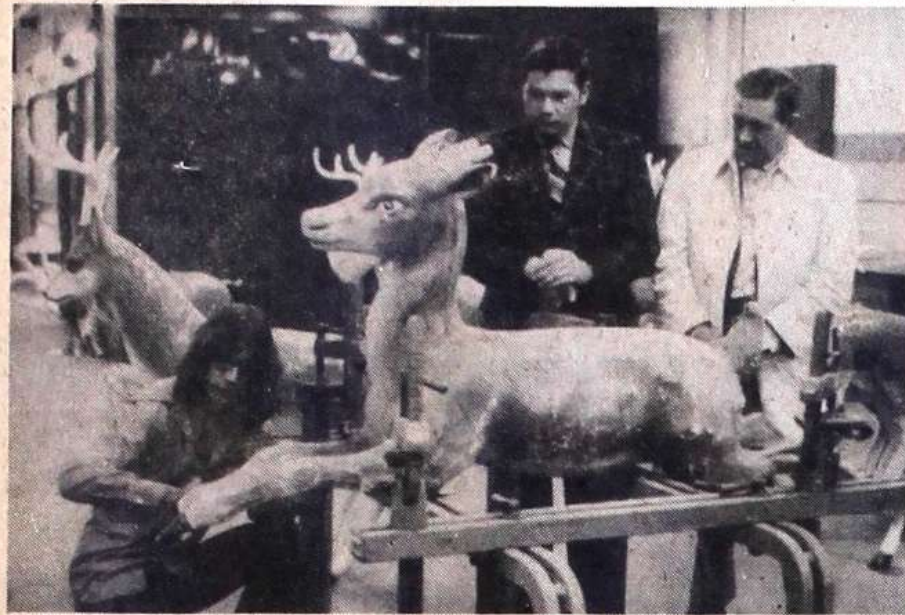

"I have felt for some time that this type of expenditure is an unfair burden on local units of government and local taxpayers," Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) said. The fact that there is a railroad and rail crossing in a city, township or village should not mean that that unit of government should be penalized.

"In some instances, there are a number of rail lines through the local unit. As a matter of safety, if for no other reason, the grade crossings must be periodically repaired and improved and they must be constantly maintained. This can amount to a considerable expense for the local government."

Under the Mahalak proposal, payment by the state would be on the basis of verified claims filed with the public service commission by the local government. There would be a separate appropriation to the commission each fiscal year to cover this type of assistance to local governments.

Mahalak said he has received a number of complaints from his district about the local costs of safety and other improvements at railroad grade crossings.

Catholic Youth to attend meet

The Catholic Youth Organization (CYO) will sponsor its annual youth conference, open to all teens in Southeastern Michigan, at Mercy College Saturday.

More than 150 teens, most of them from various CYO parish clubs and other youth groups, are expected to attend the conference, whose purpose is crystallized in the conference title—"I Am Alive."

Through the day teens will attend workshops and talks dealing intimately with their relationships with themselves and with others. All the sessions will be geared toward participation by the teens.

"Action Alley" is the collective name for the displays which will be set up at the college center, offering information and resources on such issues as ecology, venereal disease, the use and abuse of alcohol and other drugs, CYO programming and other subjects.

In the latter part of the afternoon the teens will elect new representatives to the CYO Youth Board for one-year terms. They will speak for their fellow teens in forming CYO policies that affect them directly.

The conference will continue with a celebration of the liturgy, planned by youth. A coffee house, featuring local entertainment, will bring the program to a close.

All teens are welcome to attend the conference. The fee is $5 for registration for affiliated teen club members and $6 for those who are non-affiliated. For further information and pre-registration blanks, contact Carol Klukaczewski at the CYO office, 963-7172.

Thieves stealing lumber

Theft of lumber, brick, appliances, and anything that seems to be not tied down on building sites in and around the area has become an epidemic, according to spokesmen for the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan and its affiliate, the Apartment Association of Michigan.

Next to vandalism, thefts of materials from building sites are causing the greatest concern among construction superintendents, contractors and subcontractors and the building companies themselves, said the spokesman.

One such instance of bold daylight thievery came to light recently. The men were caught in the act of loading large sheets of plywood onto a truck, as though they owned the material.

The thieves were apprehended later by police and hauled into court on charges of larceny. They entered pleas of guilty and were fined $100 each or 20 days in jail. They paid the fines.

The man who reported the theft received a reward of $500, paid by the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan.

Rotary hears talk on energy

"Power Plant Possibilities of the Future" was the title of an address presented by Dr. Stephen R. Davis, dean of the School of Engineering, Lawrence Institute of Technology, at the recent dinner-meeting of the Belleville Rotary Club.

The dinner-meeting was held in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church in Belleville. Dr. Davis also discussed the "Sterling Engine" and other possible power plants for vehicles.

California, Las Vegas visited on honeymoon

Among the early October brides in the area was Jeanie Marie Plymale who exchanged nuptial vows and wedding bands with James Steven Tkachuk on the sixth at Grace Baptist Church in Belleville.

Some 150 assembled relatives and friends attended the five o'clock ceremony read by the Rev. Bill Gram. Mrs. Ruth Thum was at the organ to play and sing 'Wither Thou Goest'.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Plymale of 6831 Sheldon Road, Belleville. Jim is the son of Mrs. Agnes Tkachuk of 192 Belle Villa, Belleville, and the late Steve Tkachuk.

ESCORTEC UP the aisle by her father, Jeanie appeared in a toe-touching gown of silk organza and lace designed with a square neckline, high-rise bodice and long, full sleeves accented with lace insets above the elbows.

Kureth-Rennell vows set for November 24

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Kureth of 1109 E. Huron River Drive, Belleville, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Laurie, to Dale A. Rennell, formerly of Birmingham and now of Asheville, North Carolina.

The bride-elect graduated in 1967 from Belleville High School and later majored in business administration at Washtenaw Community College. She is currently with Lane Bryant Stores at both their Northland and downtown locations.

MISS KURETH

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Rennell of Birmingham, is an alumnus of Seaholm High School there. He attended Western Michigan University and also served with the U.S. Army for three years. He is currently employed as a sales representative for E.T.L. Corporation in Asheville, North Carolina.

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville has been reserved for the couple's November 24 wedding.

Matching lace banded the bride's full-length veil and white daisy mums centered with coral-colored blooms comprised her cascade bouquet.

As honor attendant, Patty Bratkiewicz of Belleville, donned a pale orange chiffon gown styled in the empire mode with a bodice accented with white daisies. Her headdress was a short matching veil and her bouquet was an arrangement of harmonizing flowers.

Bridesmaids in similar dark orange chiffon frocks were Linda Fletcher, sister of the bride from Belleville; Julie Tkachuk, sister of the bridegroom from Ypsilanti; and Pam Frost of Belleville.

BEST MAN was Chuck Reinhard of Belleville and ushers included Bill Plymale of Ypsilanti and Chuck Tkachuk of Belleville, brothers of the bride and groom.

For the happy occasion, Mrs. Plymale wore a long, A-line gown in blue polyester with matching accessories. Mrs. Tkachuk chose for her son's wedding a rose-colored sleeveless formal gown and silver shoes and handbag. Both were honored with wrist corsages of pink and white daisy mums.

Following an eight-day honeymoon in Anaheim, California and Las Vegas, Nevada, the newlyweds took up residence at 46705 Kozma Road, Belleville.

Both Jim and Jeanie are 1970 graduates of Belleville High School. He is an employee of Draw-tite in Belleville and she works in the accounting department at the University of Michigan.

Cadettes in costume hold party

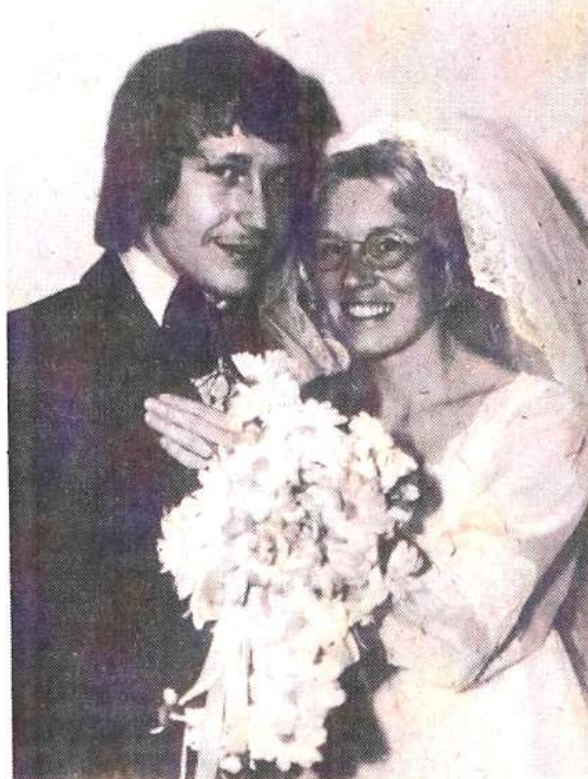

Cadette Girl Scout Troop No. 419 held its Halloween party October 24 at North Junior High School. Everyone dressed in costume and enjoyed dunking for apples and playing a few 'trick' games. First place for best costume was won by Terri Grieve for her Indian dress; second went to Robin Rice who was Raggedy Ann; third by Carolyn Phillips dressed as a woman's lib deer hunter; and fourth to Jill Bauer who came as a railroad engineer.

Refreshments of caramel apples, punch, popcorn, cookies, candy and gum, were also part of the fun.

The troop's future plans include selling the Girl Scout calendar for 1974 which will feature 20 color photographs of Scouts of all ages from all parts of the Huron Valley Council.

Travel itineraries extend East and West

By MRS. JOSEPH SPRING
699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki and daughter Linda, spent several days the week of October 25 at Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, with their son, Alan and wife. While there they visited Philadelphia and Valley Forge. Enroute home on Monday, the 29th, they stopped in Sandusky, Ohio, to call on Mrs. Maki's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Domenget.

MR. AND MRS. George Robson of Tyler Rd. have returned from a trip west to Minnesota where they visited relatives in Bimidi, East Grand Forks and Duluth. Enroute they stopped at Farwell where they visited Tyler Rd. neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Smith, before driving on to Ludington where they took the boat and crossed to Green Bay, Wisconsin. They arrived home on Friday of last week.

MR. AND MRS. Daniel F. Ross and small daughter, Rachel, left Sunday morning of last week for their home in Falls Church, Virginia, after having spent a couple of weeks visiting relatives and friends in Michigan.

MR. AND MRS. Roger Fry of Robson Rd. are announcing the birth of a baby boy October 23, at Beyer Hospital, weight 7 lbs.-8 oz. The young man, whose mother is the former Sandra Mida, has been named Todd Edwin. He has a 2½ year old brother, Rodney Allen. Grandparents are the Herbert Midas of Robson Rd. and the Charles Frys of Liberty St. Mother and baby returned home on Saturday, October 27.

FUNERAL SERVICES for a one-time resident, Carl Craft, were held in Redford on

He's being called 'T.C.'

A late October arrival in the area was the 6 lb. - 3 oz. son born on the 30th to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wingrove of 20749 Martinsville Road, Belleville.

The new heir, who arrived at Oakwood Hospital, Dearborn, was named Theodore Charles but will be called 'T.C.'

The baby is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris of Willis Road, Belleville, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wingrove of Ypsilanti. The new mother is the former Marie Harris.

Monday, October 29. Mr. Craft, who was the brother of Mrs. Arthur (Grace) Burnell of W. Columbia Ave., passed away suddenly October 26. Burial took place in Rose Lawn Cemetery.

MRS. MURIEL Smith of Liberty St. spent last weekend at Fowlerville with her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Benjamin, and other relatives.

MR. AND MRS. William F. Demske of Dearborn were callers on Tuesday, October 30, of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl H. Raymond Sr. of Wabash St. and Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty St. Later the Demskis asked Mrs. Spring to join them at dinner in celebration of their 58th wedding anniversary. Mrs. Spring was an attendant at her sister's wedding in 1915.

MR. AND MRS. Nelson Boone of Bedell St. spent last week visiting their daughters and their husbands, Dr. and Mrs. Robert (Mary) Sharp at Big Rapids, and Mr. and Mrs. Phillip (Nancy) Warsop of West Chicago, Illinois.

AFTER HAVING been a patient at Beyer Hospital, Ypsilanti, for the past 10 days, Mrs. Harry Wilkinson is now convalescing at her home on Liberty St.

MR. AND MRS. John T. Thompson of High St. and friends from Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilt, were among those who enjoyed the 'Trail-a-way' caravan trip to Gatlinburg, Tennessee. Among the various places, visited were the Cherokee Indian Reservation and the Neil Armstrong Museum in Ohio on the way home.

MEMBERS OF the Kaiser-Frazer Owners Club, Int., from Michigan and Ohio were extended a special invitation by 'Student Life' to participate in the Eastern Michigan University Homecoming festivities October 27, in Ypsilanti. They were met by Richard Weber, parade chairman, and the affair began as they joined government officials and other dignitaries in the Union for coffee and doughnuts prior to the parade.

Following the parade luncheon was served and included a Dixieland band, and a speech by President Sponberg. The agenda concluded by attending the football game between Eastern Michigan Hurons and the Youngstown Penguins of Ohio at Rynearson Stadium.

AFTER HAVING spent the month of October in Los Angeles, Calif., caring for a sick cousin, Mrs. Stella Seiden, Mrs. Dorothy Kellas returned to her home on Margery St. last Wednesday evening.

MR. AND MRS. Thomas Stevens of E. Huron River Dr. were dinner guests of friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Delaney, of Detroit on Sunday of last week.

MR. AND MRS. Wallace Saunders of East Detroit, were dinner guests on Saturday of last week of the former's brother and wife, the Clayton Saunders, of Liberty St.

MISS BENNETT

Engagement is announced

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhodes of Romulus announce the engagement of their daughter, Mary Bennett, to David Waldren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Manual Waldren of Belleville. A May wedding is being planned.

No-fuss fudge with a superb chocolate flavor

Making fudge was never easier than with this kitchen tested recipe by Kraft. It uses a new technique and new Squeeze Parkay Liquid Margarine to produce a richly flavored, creamy textured fudge everyone will rave about. Better make two batches; it's guaranteed to disappear in the wink of an eye!

Chocolate Chip Fudge

one-third cup Squeeze Parkay Liquid Margarine
1 6-oz. pkg. semi-sweet chocolate pieces
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups sugar
two-thirds cups (5 and one-third fl. oz. can evaporated milk)

Place margarine, chocolate pieces, nuts and salt in large bowl. Combine sugar and milk in saucepan; cook to soft ball stage (234 degrees on candy thermometer), stirring constantly. Pour over ingredients in bowl; beat until well blended. Pour into 9-inch square pan. Cool; cut into squares. 1½ lbs.

The nose is mightier than the tastebud when it comes to differentiating tastes. While the tongue's tastebuds can categorize sweet, sour, salty, and bitter tastes and their combinations, the nose is capable of differentiating several thousand different odors which affect your ability to taste food.

Souffle, coffee: top dessert duo

The sweet smell of Mocha Souffle' is a genuine success story. The beginnings of its climb to fame trace back to the more familiar hot chocolate souffle'. Long a symbol of baking excellence, chocolate souffle' achieves new unsurpassed flavor by the simple addition of Freeze-Dried Sanka Decaffeinated Coffee.

Mocha Souffle' adds a marvelous touch of elegance to parties where dessert must be special, out-of-the-ordinary, but simple to prepare. Freeze-Dried Sanka Decaffeinated Coffee is not bitter and blends smoothly and flavorfully with unsweetened chocolate.

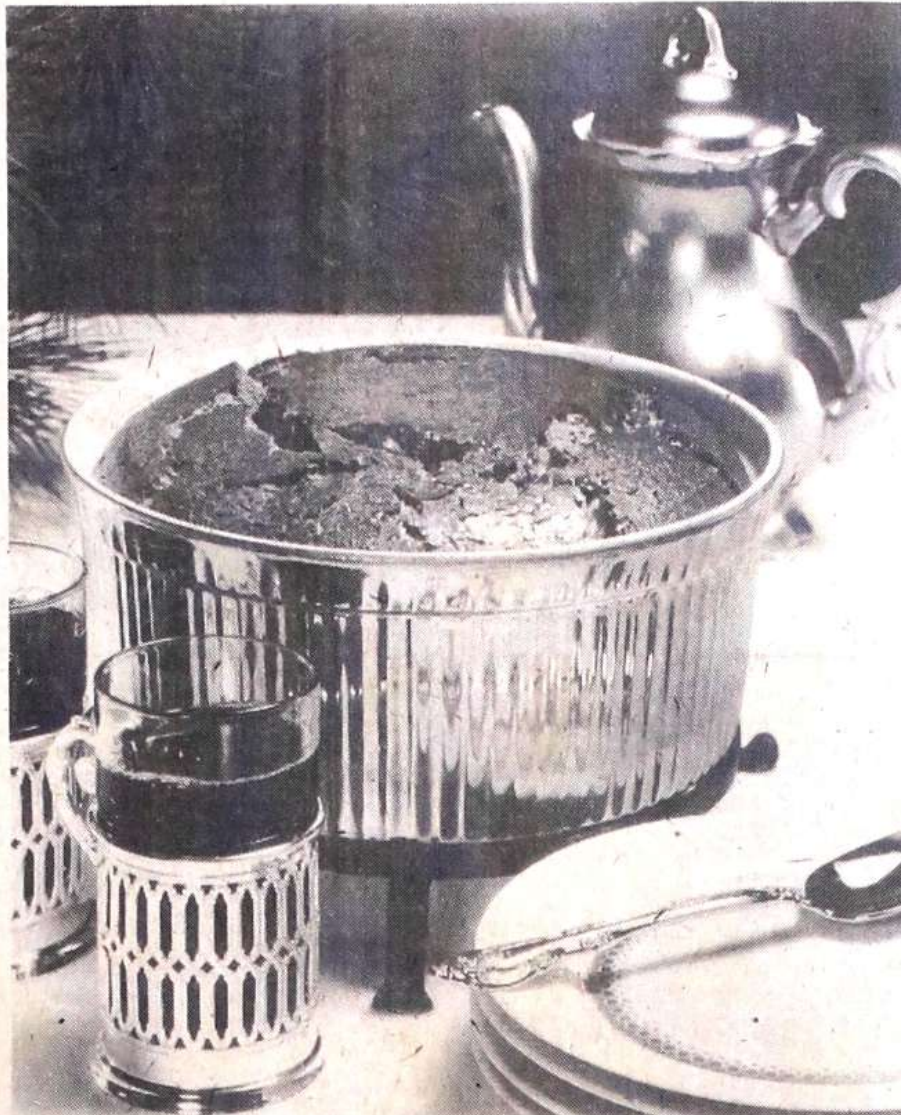

Try this easy-to-make recipe, relax, and enjoy your company as the delicate mocha aroma permeates the house. Even more relaxing will be everyone's enjoyment of this high-rise sample of dessert perfection over cups of freeze-dried decaffeinated coffee. Together, Mocha Souffle' and coffee can become your great dessert duo.

For more coffee recipes, send for your free copy of "The Sanka Spirit," P.O. Box 3045, Kankakee, Illinois 60901.

Mocha Souffle'

1/2 square unsweetened chocolate
1 1/2 cups milk
1 tablespoon freeze-dried decaffeinated coffee
1/2 cup sugar
One-third cup unsifted all-purpose flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 egg yolks, well beaten
4 egg whites, stiffly beaten

Melt chocolate in milk in top of double boiler. Beat with rotary beater until blended. Add coffee and stir until dissolved. Combine sugar, flour, and salt. Add a small amount of the chocolate mixture, stirring until smooth. Add chocolate-flour mixture to mixture in double boiler. Cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Continue cooking 5 minutes longer, stirring occasionally. Add butter and vanilla. Cool slightly. Add egg yolks; mix well. Fold mixture into egg whites. Pour into a greased 1 1/2-quart baking dish. Place baking dish in larger pan of hot water. Bake at 375 degrees for 50 minutes, or until set. Serve immediately with cream, if desired. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

A MASTERPIECE — By adding Freeze Dried Sanka Decaffeinated Coffee to the more familiar chocolate dessert souffle', a special flavor and distinction is achieved. Serve as a high-rise sample of velvety perfection for dessert party entertaining with steaming mugs of freeze-dried decaffeinated coffee. (Courtesy Freeze-Dried Sanka).

At Study Club

'Guest Night' to feature immigration speaker

Residents of the community and high school students are invited to share in the Annual Guest Night sponsored by the Women's Study Club Wednesday, November 14.

The program will feature William E. Zimmer, Assistant District Director, United States Immigration and Naturalization Service. His topic 'Borderline Cases' will center on the large number of aliens entering the Detroit area from Canada, holding jobs illegally and funneling millions of dollars out of the country annually. This creates problems of control and prevents citizens of the United States from finding jobs.

Members of the Study Club and their guests will meet in the cafeteria of North Junior High School for dinner at 6:45 p.m. Musical entertainment by the North Junior High Choraleers, under the direction of Mrs. Kathy Theume, will precede the guest speaker. Mrs. Thurston Jahr, Study Club President, will preside over the evening's activities.

Reservations for dinner should be made with Mrs. Olin Wyman, 697-7661, by Friday, November 9.

MISS TONTALO

Springtime ceremony is planned

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Tontalo of 37 Madelon Street, Belleville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sherry L., to Dennis J. Ferris of Inkster.

Currently employed at the Placement Center, Eastern Michigan University, the bride-elect is a 1972 graduate of Belleville High School.

Her fiancé, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ferris of 26065 Lehigh, Inkster, was graduated from Lincoln Park High School. He is employed as assistant manager at Sibley's Shoe Store in Lincoln Park.

A March wedding is being planned.

Air base chapel is site of wedding

White gladiolas, carnations and mums combined with tall white tapers to set the mood for the recent wedding of Sharon Marie Grishaber and Terry Dale Johnson. Chaplain Major Rhoads officiated the single ring ceremony on the evening of October 5 in Chapel Three of Keesler Air Force Base in Mississippi.

Debbie Douchett accompanied herself on the guitar as she sang 'Until It's Time for You to Go.'

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Lawrence A. Grishaber, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam J. Grishaber of Wayne. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Pepper of Whiteman Air Force Base, Missouri.

For her wedding day, the bride wore a traditional white gown styled with an empire bodice in white lace and organza with a high collar, elbow-length belted sleeves and a long train.

HER THREE-TIERED fingertip veil was held by a headpiece of baby's breath and yellow button carnations. He bouquet was comprised of white roses and carnations with yellow button carnations for contrast. As part of her bridal finery, Sharon carried a white lace handkerchief given to her by her mother.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Carmen Bain who donned a satin-finish baby blue formal and carried a nosegay of blue mums, white daisies and yellow spider mums tied with blue streamers.

The bride's brother, Lawrence Grishaber, also served as best man.

Following the ceremony, the newlyweds opened their home at 220 Gill Avenue, Biloxi, Mississippi, for a small reception.

Both the bride and bridegroom are students at Keesler, Sharon studying to be a Morse code systems operator and Terry studying radar repair. They will be spending the remainder of their Air Force stint in Okinawa.

Prepare your home for winter cold

Don't wait 'til the snow flies to prepare your home for winter, says Jim Boyd, extension agricultural engineer at Michigan State University.

"You can be comfortable this winter in spite of the energy shortage by taking steps now to reduce energy waste and increase the efficiency with which your home uses energy," he declares.

A major factor in both comfort and energy consumption is home heating. And one of the keys to efficient home heating is insulation.

"In a poorly insulated home, a good deal of the heat is lost through the roof," Boyd explains. "Insulation cuts the heat loss and makes it possible for you to keep warm while burning less fuel."

Heat is also lost through cracks in the foundation, gaps around windows and doors and through fireplaces.

"BEFORE IT gets too cold to work outside, you should caulk cracks in the foundation, gaps around doors and windows and any other openings that let heat escape," Boyd suggests. "You can lose a lot of heat through a crack around a window."

Weather stripping around doors and windows is another possibility. Even a rolled-up newspaper jammed into a crack can stop the icy flow of air coming in around a loose-fitting door.

Installing storm windows or fastening plastic film over windows will reduce heat loss through the glass. Pulling drapes or shades across windows will also help cut down the heat that escapes around and through windows.

Your fireplace offers heat another escape route to the outside, Boyd notes. Keep the damper closed when the fireplace is not in use. If you can't close it, you can cover the fireplace opening with a homemade door or heavy curtain.

Closing off unused rooms will help concentrate the heat you have where you need it.

Adding moisture to the air will not enable you to get along with less fuel, Boyd says, because a humidifier requires a certain amount of energy to evaporate the water. Relieving the dryness of the air may make you a little more comfortable, however.

'Detroit Auto Show' features old and new cars

That first car you ever owned will be there right along with the next one you're planning to buy at this year's 58th "Detroit Auto Show."

Spread out across 10 acres of exhibit space in Detroit's Cobo Hall from Nov. 17 through 25 will be displayed the newest and the nostalgic in automobile excitement.

With the theme "nostalgia," the Detroit Auto Dealers Association (DADA) is calling their show "A Ride Down Memory Lane."

"WE'VE SET out to give auto show goers something more and different this year," said Jerry Bielfield, chairman of the show for the second year.

—For your— Entertainment

"We're excited about this new kind of show," he added. "Everyone is caught up in nostalgia, these days, and cars played a big part in those happy years we remember."

"I know we're going to have as much fun running this show as the people will have seeing it."

Bielfield expects 300,000 people to attend this year's show.

IMAGINE eight football fields filled with cars, motor homes, lovely models and exhibits. That's about the size of this year's show, he said.

More than 250 new 1974 automobiles, both domestic and imported, will be displayed in combined exhibit halls A, B, and C.

Sprinkled among them — the spice of bygone eras — will be represented by vintage automobiles of the 1920s, 1930s, 1940s and 1950s.

Each of those decades will reign during separate days of the show: the 1920s on the first Saturday and Sunday, the 1930s on Monday and Tuesday, the 1940s on Wednesday and Thanksgiving and the 1950s on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. DANCE contests on such back-bogglers as the Charleston, Jitterbug, and Twist and maybe even a waltz will be open to all, with attractive prizes for the winners. Local disc jockeys of present and bygone days will be master of ceremonies for the contests.

That first car you ever owned could be yours again, as one car from each of the four decades is auctioned off at the show.

Auctions are set for Sunday evening, Monday evening, Wednesday evening, and Friday evening. Also on Friday evening a 1957 London taxi and a 1974 Cougar Coupe will be auctioned.

Five new cars will be given away as attendance prizes, one each weekday, Monday through Friday. Show-goers need only fill-out and deposit their ticket stubs to be eligible to win. The new cars are: a Mustang, a Vega, a Duster, a Gremlin, and a Datsun 210.

COMMUNITY involvement and action are new thrusts for the "Detroit Auto Show" this year," said Boyce Tope, executive vice-president of DADA, and general manager of the show. "And one way we're developing this is by involving groups and organizations in various contests."

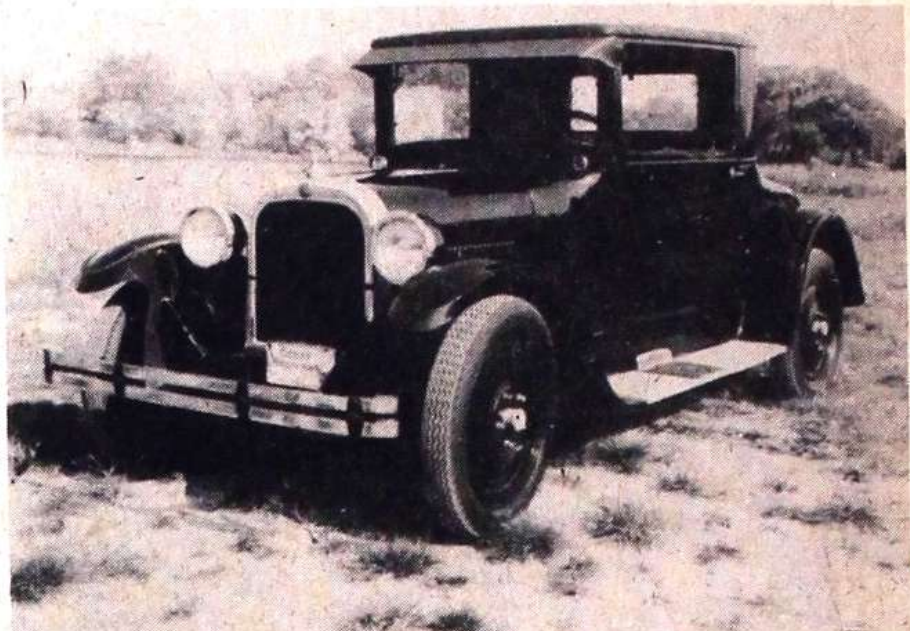

One example, the Miss Detroit Auto Show contest will involve entries from each car division of the Big Four auto makers and each car company involved in the show.

Plans call for each to hold their own internal contest or search for their loveliest lady to represent them. The winner from each will be present at their respective exhibit areas and on stage Nov. 18, when a panel of judges will select "Miss Detroit Auto Show."

Another beauty contest, this one for the professional models working at the show, also will be held. Called "Miss Deluxe Model," the winner will be Nov. 12.

VINTAGE car judging will add to the excitement the first weekend of the show, and winning cars will remain on exhibit throughout the show.

More than 200 entries of cars of the four decades are expected, and a parade is planned for downtown Detroit.

VINTAGE CARS—A 1927 Dodge (top) and a 1938 Buick will be among the four vintage cars to be auctioned off at this year's "Detroit Auto Show" which runs Nov. 17-25 at Cobo Hall. The Dodge, a 4-cylinder "Doctor's Coupe" model will be auctioned Sunday, while the four-door Buick Special, an eight-cylinder car, will be auctioned Monday. Two other vintage cars, one from the 1940's and one from the 1950's, also will be auctioned.

Restaurant celebrates anniversary

The Daly Restaurants currently are celebrating 25 years of business in the Detroit area.

The first Daly eatery was opened in July 1948 on Beech-Daly Road in Dearborn Heights by Bill Ihlenfeldt, a man with no experience in the restaurant field.

Bill's brother, Don, opened the Daly Restaurant on Wayne Road in Westland. With 17 restaurants in business today including one in Romulus, Daly's plans for the future include company-owned and franchise expansion.

SECOND DALY RESTAURANT — The Daly Restaurant in Westland has the distinction of being the second Daly's started in the metropolitan Detroit area. Fifteen other Daly Restaurants have been built since the 1948 opening of the Westland facility.

present an ethnic fairylad as "Christmas Around the World" opening Nov. 30.

Fourteen floral artists will create their own interpretations of international themes in rooms throughout the hall, a Tudor mansion at Oakland University in Rochester.

Adding to the festive mood will be native costumes. Visitors of all national origins are urged to wear their own native dress for the event.

Co-chairmen for this Christmas fantasy, Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Gerstenberg and Mr. and Mrs. William E.

3 one-act plays set at college
Three Gothic one-act plays will be presented this week at Schoolcraft College. They primarily will deal with terror and murder.

"The Man With a Rope" by Helene Fontage and "The Gourmet" by Albert Feur will be directed by Ralph Kelley, instructor in English and theater at Schoolcraft.

The production starts at 8 p.m. Nov. 8, 9 and 10, and at 7 p.m. on Nov. 11 in the Liberal Arts Building at the Haggerty Road campus.

Tickets at $1.50 are available at the Student Activities Office in Waterman Campus Center, the college bookstore and at the door.

Hartman Jr., anticipate attendance will exceed the 3,300 who toured Meadow Brook Hall during last year's holiday tour.

The public is invited to visit the floral wonderland from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Nov. 30, Dec. 1 and 2, and from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. Dec. 2.

Tickets will be available at the door with no increase in the general admission of $3.50 ($2.00 for those under 12 or over 65).

Groups or busloads may tour for $2.50 per person, if advance arrangements are made at the hall, 377-3140. Tickets also are on sale for a special patron's party Dec. 1.

Mrs. Gerstenberg said proceeds from "Christmas Around the World" will help provide revenue for the upkeep of Meadow Brook Hall, one of America's finest residences, now being used as a cultural and conference center.

Area YWCA to present 'Black Girl'

The play, "Black Girl," will be presented by the Black Theater Concepts Group of the Western Wayne County YWCA on Nov. 16 and 17. Curtain time is 8 p.m. at the Inkster High School Auditorium on Middlebelt Road.

The play is about a young black girl's struggle for a better life as a member of a family trapped by prejudices and problems.

Tickets are $1.25 for adults and $1 for students. They can be purchased from the YWCA, group members, Kirks Barbecue and Allen supermarket.

Area woman to perform in drama

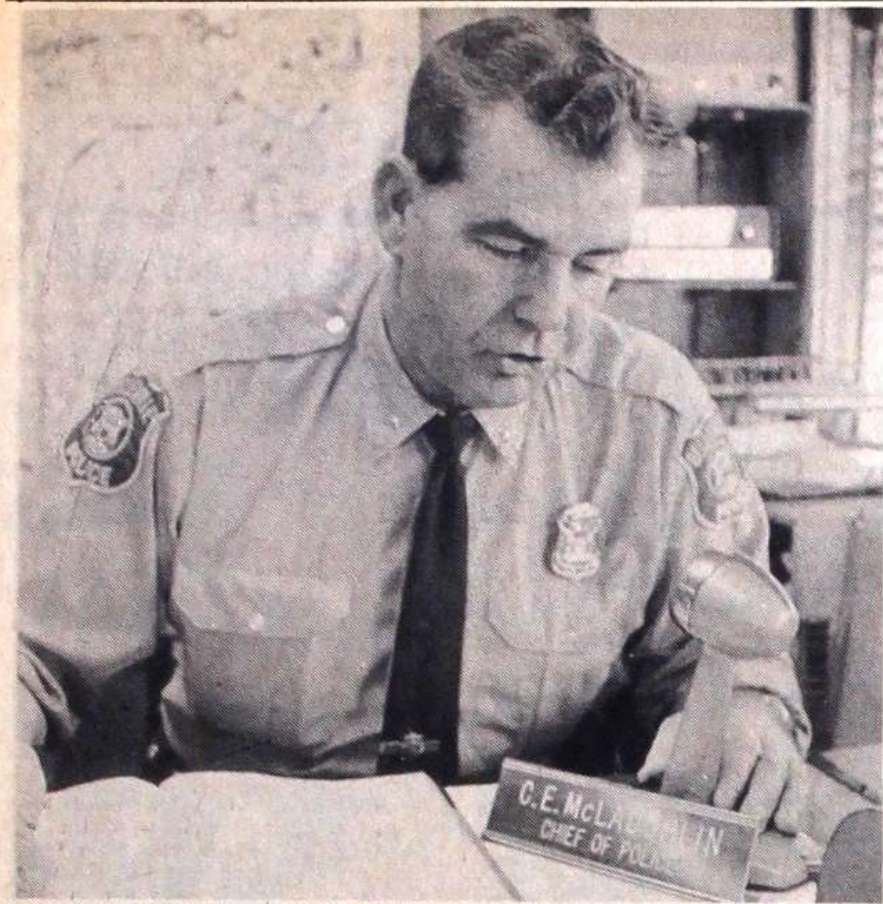

A Wayne woman is appearing in a student production of "Rip Van Winkle" at Madonna College in Livonia. Charlotte McBride portrays the role of a village in the play which is a project of the children's literature and drama class.

It is being staged especially for school children in the area on Nov. 15 and 16.

McLaughlin and the then police chief the late Harry Agge composed the police force. Currently he has a staff of seven men, including two other veterans, and one woman serving the Belleville community.

More equipment on hand

Center aids local educational needs

To meet local educational needs more effectively, the Wayne County Regional Media Center Advisory Committee has provided leadership for a major expansion in the areas of production equipment, personnel, and in-service equipment and materials at the Intermediate District's Professional Resource Center in Wayne.

The Professional Resource Center improves instruction by providing resources and information to teachers, administrators, and paraprofessionals in Wayne County's 36 school districts. Major activities which take place in the center are:

- Production of instructional materials and devices.
- Retrieval of information and references on aspects of the public schools (pre-school, elementary, and secondary methodology and organization).

- In-service training in the selection and use of teaching aids; creation of instructional materials; utilization of production equipment and operation of audio-visual equipment.

- Dissemination of research and studies in educational areas. The following equipment is available for local district educators: varietyper-headliner (Professional Model); photo-typositor; photo-typesetter (Will justify copy, reduce it, etc.); photostat camera (reduce and enlarge half-tones, diagrams); larger drymounting presses (2); sign-making machine - poster size (will do color work); larger laminating machine (up to 25" width); bind-fast machine (binds with special adhesive); therm-bind machine (binds with special tape); power stapler; multilith tandem press (two sides at once or two colors on one side); and one higher capacity folding machine (scores, perforates, and folds).

Other equipment includes: two electric Cerlox machines (plastic bind); new rotogather (will collate 30 sheets, fold, and staple in one continuous operation); diazo printer for blueprints and color transparencies for overhead projector; tape duplicator (5 tapes at one time); two more electronic stencil cutters (3 now available); two more Roneo Mimeos for color work (3 now available); two collators with 16 page capacity; two Thermofax Machines; two additional copiers, and slide duplicating equipment, including camera. "In addition to acquiring new equipment for classroom material production, we have added staff members to our graphics and production divisions," said the center director, George Moffat.

The impact of the center since 1965 has been of great value in the classrooms, for teaching staffs, and the 36 local school districts as completed material filters back from the many projects initiated by the local educators, the director said. Each successfully completed project from the resource center enhances its already popular and steadily-increasing practical reputation. Individuals are welcome from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Groups may be scheduled for visitation by calling either 729-1770 or 274-9010. The center is located in southwestern Wayne County at the intersection of Van Born Road and Venoy Road.

South Junior Hi elects its officers

South Junior High School in Belleville has announced the results of a recent school-wide election for officers and grade representatives to the school's student council.

Candidates seeking office presented speeches, some "humorous" before the student body and faculty members.

Election winners were: president, Dan Pavelka, vice president, Margo Nowak; secretary, Chris Knowlton; treasurer, Mary Gaffney; and public relation director, Cindy Hudge.

Grade representatives elected were Regina May, ninth grade; representative-at-large; Tom Rizzo, eighth grade; representative-at-large; and Craig Koss, seventh grade representative-at-large.

Others were: eighth grade—Pat Anguilm, Rich Briggs, Debbie Davis, Pam Fitch, Tammy Jackson, Bob Laney, Deanna Morgan, Larry

Pingston, Christopher Steele and Karen Van Buren. Ninth grade—Sandy Baisch, Theresa Bowles, Ruth

Couperthwaite, Patti Fry, Sandy Henry, Ann Kalasz, Jeri Ludlow, Lisa McGlashen, Diane Shepard, Dave Similo, Pat Van Buren and Don Walls.

State police offer identification card

Persons without drivers licenses often have difficulty identifying themselves when attempting to cash checks or to prove their identity for other purposes.

In order to alleviate this situation, the Michigan legislature last year passed a statute providing for an official personal identification card. These cards are available to any person who is at least 18 years old and is a registered voter in Michigan.

To obtain a card, application may be made at any state police post and must be accompanied by a birth certificate showing the applicant's age. The issuing officer also may require other such documents of identification.

A fee of $3 is charged for each card. Duplicates are issued upon the payment of $1.50 and upon furnishing satisfactory proof that the original card has been lost, destroyed, mutilated or has become illegible. The law further provides that any person who falsely represents any information upon his application, and any unauthorized person who makes, alters or duplicates an official identification card is guilty of a misdemeanor.

This also is true of any person who uses another's identification card as proof of identification or any person who keeps someone else's identification card without his consent.

Any person knowingly using an identification card with the intent of defrauding, misrepresenting or obtaining money, goods, property or services, is guilty of a felony and the identification card must be forfeited to the state police.

Because of these protections, the identification card provides a positive means of proving one's identity - whether it is needed to cash a check or to prove one's age.

Company sales up

Real Estate One recently reported an increase of 27 per cent in sales at the end of the third quarter, 1973 as compared to the same period last year.

At the close of September the year to date number of properties sold totaled 4,244 for a volume of $115,803,283 compared to 3,390 homes sold totaling $90,861,124 in 1972.

September sales in the metropolitan offices of Real Estate One were up 11 per cent over September of last year. Commercial and residential sales for the month amounted to 268 units for a sales volume of $8,074,105.

William Y. Mathers, general sales manager, said that sales were running well ahead of any previous year, and 1973 will set a production record since the formation of Real Estate One in January of 1970.

The Real Estate One network is comprised of 23 metropolitan offices and 20 out state operations.

District to develop ed guides

The Wayne County Intermediate School District, at the request of many local school districts, convened an advisory committee of health and education representatives to develop a health occupations curriculum guide for secondary students.

The health occupations curriculum guide basically proposes that 11th grade students be given an extensive exploratory experience in the high school.

In their senior year, students would be assigned to work in either a hospital or nursing home for intensive on-the-job training.

Schools will be encouraged to develop program applications and make contact with health organizations in the community.

Area members of the advisory committee included: Richard Dicesore, Cherry Hill Schools; Jessie Moner, Inkster Schools and John Thompson, Garden City Schools.

Curriculum guide can be obtained by contacting Donald Leverenz, Occupational Education Consultant, 33030 Van Born Road, Wayne, 48184, call 728-1110.

Maidens to meet at school

The Wayne-Westland YMCA Indian Maiden orientation meeting at Merriman Elementary School brought some mothers and daughters together to form a tribe.

There still is time to join. The first tribe will be meeting twice a month on Tuesdays from 7 to 8 p.m. Other tribes will be meeting on different days of the week.

For further information about this program of mothers and daughters sharing experiences together, call Dorothy Murphey at the Wayne-Westland YMCA at 721-7044.

Treasurers will hold meet Nov. 15

The Association of Wayne County Treasurers will hold its November meeting on Nov. 15 at The Woodstone, located at Rawsonville Road and the I-94 Expressway in Belleville.

Ralph E. Hedman, Van Buren Township treasurer, will be the host of the session. For further information call Hedman at 699-2001, or Grant Campbell, Canton Township treasurer, at 722-1570.

Following the noon luncheon, the regular meeting of the association will be held at the Van Buren Township Hall, 46425 Tyler Rd.

Scouts present awards

A Halloween skit by Den Six, games and the presentation of awards highlighted this year's Halloween party of Cub Scout Pack No. 1071 which is sponsored by the First United Methodist Church in Belleville.

The Halloween party was held on Oct. 29 in the Fellowship Hall adjacent to the church.

Members of the cub scout pack who received awards include:

Allen Riggs, Webelo colors and book and silver arrow; Lennie Bourdeau, Webelo colors and book and athlete pin; Mark Alspaugh, athlete, outdoorsman and citizens badges; Mark Mercer, athlete, outdoorsman and aquanaut badges.

Leslie Ferguson, athlete, aquanaut and citizen badges; Randy Thorne, athlete, aquanaut and citizen badges; Jeff Smreka, aquanaut and athlete badges; Jeff Kohr, athlete and citizen badges.

John Parker, athlete, aquanaut and citizen badges; Andy Dodge, outdoorsman, citizen and athlete badges; Bill Simmons, athlete badge; Jerry Reed, citizen and athlete badges; Eddie Fletcher, bobcat pin; Jimmy Wertz, wolf badge, two silver arrows and one gold arrow; Randy Thorne received a First Aid Kit for selling the most tickets for Expo '73.

It also was announced at the party that Mrs. Shirley Riggs assumes the duties of secretary held by Mrs. Kay Parker and Mrs. Burma Wertz took over the awards, chairmanship and publicity duties held by Mrs. Diane Ferguson.

Cider and donuts were the refreshments for the evening.

Students enjoy party

The celebration of Halloween at Elwell Elementary School in Belleville was a happy occasion for the 659 boys and girls who attend the school, according to school officials.

Members of the school's teaching staff joined the students in Halloween festivities and local magicians, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mathena of 86 Carmell, Belleville, presented magic acts.

The Mathenas two children, Arthur and Wendy, attend Elwell.

Marvin has been practicing his "magic" for the last 25 years.

Usually the Halloween parties at the elementary school are for the children. However this year three of the teachers at Elwell School decided it was time to get into the act.

Cheryl Lentz, first grade teacher, assumed the role of "The Good Fairy," Mrs. Nancy Markle, second grade teacher, assumed the role of "Miss Priss," and Mrs. Judy Sielaff, first grade teacher assumed the role of "Wanda The Witch."

The Halloween parties were planned by the mothers of students.

Builders plan meet on Nov. 20

A meeting of the membership of the Builders Association of Southeastern Michigan (BASM) and its affiliate, the Apartment Association of Michigan, will be held Nov. 20 at Raligh House, Telegraph Road near 10 Mile Road in Southfield.

The meeting will begin at 5 p.m. followed by dinner at 6 p.m. Ballots in the BASM's annual election of officers and directors will be counted at this full-membership meeting.

The new board will meet later and select the 1974 president and other officers for 1974.

Virginia Carmichael's friends set up scholarship in her honor

The memory of the late Virginia Gielinski Carmichael, former secretary to the superintendent of the Van Buren Public Schools District, and wife of Romulus Mayor Hyle Carmichael, will live in a scholarship fund being set up by friends. Administered by Vira Petraska of the Romulus Branch of the Manufacturers Bank, the fund will help send a deserving student in the Van Buren schools for further study in secretarial science after graduation from high school in 1974.

It was as a secretary and community worker, that Virginia Carmichael, who died Oct. 14, became well-known in the Belleville-Romulus area.

FOR 31 YEARS, Mrs. Carmichael served as a secretary in Van Buren schools, working for the first 10 years as secretaries to various principals in Belleville High School and Van Buren district junior high schools.

For the remaining 21 years of her life, Mrs. Carmichael served as secretary to three superintendents of the district—a job she considered to be a great honor according to friends.

"She regarded her position with the Van Buren schools as one of particular honor," said

Mrs. Petraska. "She dedicated her time during those years not only to meet the necessities of her job, but also to performing her tasks according to her high standards as a secretary."

"It is because of her dedication to the school district, and to the profession as a secretary, we selected this means to continue her memory."

DURING HER career at the Van Buren schools, Mrs. Carmichael was active in the National Educational Secretaries Association on local, state, county and national levels. In 1957 because of her skills on the job, and community service she was named "Professional Woman of the Year" by the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club.

In addition to her duties as a secretary and wife of the mayor of Romulus, Mrs. Carmichael also found time to work on community projects, serving on church, civic and municipal committees to better her hometown of Belleville and her adopted City of Romulus.

"It is because so many people have expressed the desire to do something to perpetuate Virginia's memory that this fund has been set up," Mrs. Petraska said. "Although it would be difficult, we would hope that a girl who benefits from this fund will live up to the high occupational and civic pride standards Mrs. Carmichael set for herself during her life in this area."

Donations to the fund and information on it, can be obtained by writing Mrs. Petraska in care of the Manufacturers Bank, P.O. Box 185, Romulus 48174. She also can be reached at her home, 4421 Eastlawn, Wayne 48184.

Memorial plaque to commemorate Mrs. Carmichael

A memorial plaque commemorating the service of Mrs. Virginia Carmichael to the Van Buren Public School District soon will grace the walls of the school district's administration building, 55 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

Mrs. Carmichael, 50, wife of Romulus Mayor Hyle J. Carmichael, died Oct. 14 at the University of Michigan Hospital. She was taken to the hospital after the wedding reception of a friend.

Doctors believe her death was due to a blood clot in the brain.

The school district's secretarial staff and other area residents are contributing funds for the memorial plaque in the honor of Mrs. Carmichael, who made a reputation for herself during the past 31 years as an employee of the Van Buren School District.

Since 1952, she worked as secretary to the superintendent of the school district, serving three separate superintendents during that time. She was a life-long resident of the Belleville-Romulus area and was a graduate of Belleville High School.

"She was one of the most dedicated employees of the school district and an excellent secretary," said Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz. "Mrs. Carmichael was sort of a right hand not only to me in the operation of the superintendent's office but to others before me. She will be terribly missed."

Mrs. Carmichael was Kaulitz's secretary the past five years.

DONATING BLOOD — The American Red Cross' bloodmobile recently visited the City of Belleville in its drive for blood. More than 100 pints of blood were donated by area residents for the Belleville Community Blood Bank.

Don't delay! Our new low-cost home insulation program can cut gas heating costs up to 17%.

In just a few short weeks, many of our customers around Michigan have taken advantage of a new program to hold down heating bills and help save Natural Gas, too. The program was developed at the direction of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which is seeking ways to conserve Natural Gas and hold down utility bills by the wise use of energy.

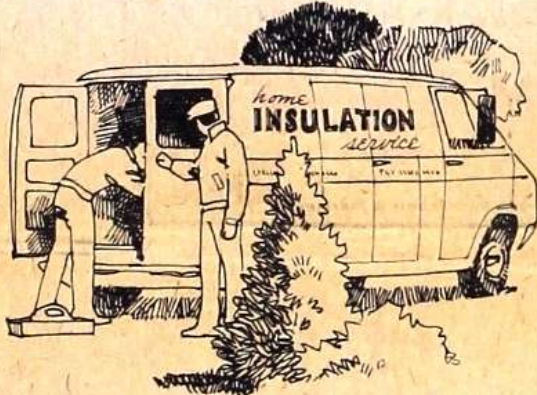

The heart of the program is installing ceiling insulation in your home. It's quick. Economical. Easy. In fact, a recent government study found "the most significant opportunity" for homeowners to conserve energy was through "improved insulation of houses," [which] "would benefit the individual homeowner by reducing winter fuel bills, summer air conditioning bills, size and capital cost of heating and cooling equipment, and air pollution." The Michigan Public Service Commission has found that many homeowners could achieve fuel savings of as much as 17% by having six inches of insulation in their attics. Naturally, results for your home may vary due to architectural differences and your heating habits.

To help you realize fuel savings in your home, we've designed an easy home insulation program. Here's how it works.

First, you can install the ceiling insulation yourself. It's a simple do-it-yourself project—and the most economical way to put in ceiling insulation. Many customers can accomplish the task for less than $100.

To assist you in the project, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company has even prepared a helpful booklet that shows just how to do the job.

Secondly, you can call a contractor of your choice and arrange to have the work done. Or call Michigan Consolidated Gas Company. We'll have one of our participating insulation subcontractors install it for you, which can also be easy on your budget. Many houses with up to 1,000 square feet in the ceiling area can be insulated for less than $200. And, there's a payment plan to suit most every customer. You can pay cash. Or, you can pay just 20% down at the time the contract is signed—then simply have the remaining cost included in your gas bill. Pay it off on your next three gas bills with no interest or carrying charges.

Finally, you can pay for the job over an extended period at an interest rate of 1% monthly on the unpaid balance. (ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE OF 12%.)

Whichever you choose, you'll be taking an important step toward holding down your heating bills. And cutting down on the use of Natural Gas. Why not plan on doing it now. Contact us today for additional details. And if you're a do-it-yourselfer, ask for our free booklet.

Area legislator co-sponsors blood deduction legislation

An area legislator is co-sponsoring a bill to provide that blood donations be considered a charitable contribution deductible from a taxpayer's income.

Congressman William D. Ford (D-15th District) said the bill would permit a $25 deduction for each pint of blood donated to a non-profit blood collecting agency and would permit each donor to claim up to $125 per year for a maximum of five pints of blood.

Ford added: "This bill would provide an economic incentive that would increase our nation's blood supply. Presently about three per cent of the public donates blood through non-profit organizations such as the Red Cross."

I have been advised that if we can only increase this by one per cent we would be very near to total elimination of the current blood shortage problems."

Ford explained that the proposed legislation would improve the quality of the blood available to patients.

"An increase in the supply of voluntarily donated blood would go a long way toward eliminating the threat of hepatitis transmitted by unhealthy donors," he said. "Studies have revealed that contaminated blood sold commercially is a major source of hepatitis."

In addition to providing the tax deduction, and improving both the quality and quantity of blood, the Congressman said the implementation of this policy also would reduce the cost of blood significantly. Presently approximately 15 per cent of the blood supply is obtained commercially.

Highway commission wants larger role in planning

The newly elected chairman of the seven-county Inter-County Highway Commission has asked that a larger role in transportation planning be granted the agency.

Michael Berry, board chairman of the Wayne County Road Commission, said that under new amendments to the Federal Highway Act, transportation plans can be reviewed or developed by a designated transportation planning agency.

"I'm not suggesting that the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) should be replaced, but perhaps the Inter-County Highway Commission can supplement or undertake development of a share of the trans-planning process," Berry said.

House bill phases out state municipal courts

In a close vote, the Michigan House Representatives passed a bill to phase out Michigan's remaining municipal courts.

The bill permits the governing bodies of the 28 cities still operating municipal courts to consolidate those courts into district courts by Jan. 1, 1975. That voluntary action by resolution would have to come by May 1, 1974. Those cities not taking voluntary action would have their courts phased into the district court system by Jan. 1, 1977.

Most of the affected cities are in Wayne County, with five in Oakland County, four in Kent County and two in Macomb County. The bill does not affect either Detroit Recorder's Court or Common Pleas Court.

municipal judges would retain the district court bench seats, in others elections would have to be held to resolve competing benches, as some would be eliminated.

Both the municipal courts and the district courts have jurisdiction of offenses with a penalty of as much as one year in jail (misdemeanors), but the district courts have jurisdiction in civil matters of as much as $10,000, compared to the municipal court's $1,500.

The bill cleared the Michigan House of Representatives by a 57-44 vote, with 56 votes needed to pass a bill in the house.

Supporters of the bill said it will unify lower levels of the courts in Michigan while opponents contended that local communities should not be forced to give up their municipal courts in favor of the district courts.

THE BILL IS now in the Michigan Senate, according to State Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-38th District).

Both the house and senate have approved and sent to the governor a major county government reorganization bill which would give non-charter counties the option of switching to a unified type of government with a county manager or county executive as the top administrative official.

He would supervise and control all functions of all county departments except those headed by an elected official, coordinate the various activities of the county, enforce rules and ordinances of the county board of commissioners, unify the management of county affairs, and have budget preparation and appointive responsibilities.

The official would be either a manager appointed by the board of commissioners or an executive elected by the people.

THE HOUSE passed and sent the senate another reorganization bill, this one affecting state government. It would transfer from the Department of Natural Resources to the Department of Commerce the Michigan Tourist Council.

This was done because Michigan's tourist industry is essentially an economic concern. The transfer would give the tourist council access to the commerce department's economic development specialists and specialized programs for advertising and promotion.

Record number of youngsters attend area Halloween party

A record number of Van Buren Township youngsters attended this year's Halloween party held under the sponsorship of Van Buren Township's Fire Department No. 2.

The Halloween festivities were held at the North Junior High School in Belleville with 826 children and 250 parents in attendance. A number of area teen-agers also were present to enjoy dance music that was provided at the party.

Last year's Halloween party was held at the fire hall on Ecorse Road and attracted 680 children. This year, sponsoring officials expected 1,000 youngsters and moved the Halloween party to the junior high school.

Cost of the 1973 observance of Halloween amounted to more than $1,000 said Robert Beck, secretary-treasurer of Van Buren Fire Department No. 2.

Funds that financed the Halloween party came from car washes, bake sales and contributions. Gifts presented as door prizes were donated by a number of local merchants.

Trophies were awarded to the first, second and third place winners of the "best original costumes" made by the youngsters themselves.

The children received bags of candy and pop corn and other refreshments. The children also received numbered cards when they arrive at the Halloween party. The cards were later used in a drawing for the door prizes.

Refreshments consisting of apples and cider. Coffee and donuts also were served. The ladies auxiliary (Firemen's wives) assisted at the "successful" Halloween party, a fire fire department spokesman said.

Sumpter changes voting precincts

Sumpter Township residents may be voting in different locations in the next election after the township recently was divided into new precincts. The new precincts provide for population increases and population shifts.

Under the new precinct system, the township is divided into six precincts, according to Sumpter Township Clerk Clarence Hoffman.

Persons living between Bemis and Judd roads to the north and south and Rawsonville and Elwell roads to the west and east live in precinct two, moving to the west of the township, persons living between Elwell Road on the west and Martinsville Road on the east and Bemis Road to the north and Judd Road to the south vote in Precinct Six.

PERSONS living between Harris Road on the south and Bemis Road on the north and extending from Martinsville to, Clark on the west and east also vote in Precinct Six.

Precinct Five on the west portion of the township extends from Judd Road on the north to Oakville-Waltz Road on the south and from Rawsonville Road on the west and to Sherwood on the east.

Voters living between Sherwood Road on the west and Sumpter Road at the east and from Judd Road as a north boundary to Oakville-Waltz on the south side, vote in Precinct One.

Precinct Three voters live between Judd and Oakville-Waltz roads at the north and south and Sumpter and Clark roads to the west and east.

IN THE FAR northeastern corner of the township, voters in Precinct Four live between Harris and Judd roads on the north and south and Martinsville and Clark roads on the west and east.

Precinct One voters will cast their ballots at the Sumpter Township Hall, 23483 Sumpter Rd. Precinct Two voters will go to Elwell Elementary School, 17601 Elwell Rd. Precinct Four voters also will go to the township hall. Precinct Five voters will go to the Sumpter Fire Station, 19731 Sumpter Rd.

Voters in the fifth precinct are scheduled to vote at the Bessie Hoffman Junior High School at 50700 Willow Rd.

Precinct Six voters also will cast their ballots at the fire station.

SHARON PETRASKA

Secretary for Kaulitz is named

A Romulus resident who is a member of the secretarial staff at the Van Buren Public School District's administration offices has been appointed secretary to Van Buren School Supt. Dale E. Kaulitz. She is Mrs. Sharon Petraska.

Mrs. Petraska's appointment will fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Mrs. Hyle (Virginia) Carmichael, who worked for the school district for 31 years.

The new superintendent's secretary began her employment with the school district on Aug. 7, 1967. Prior to her new duties she was secretary to Raymond Kohr, director of personnel.

Kiwanis hear report

A first hand report of activities at sessions of the recent Wolverine Boys' State held at the Michigan State University was presented to members and guests of the Belleville Kiwanis Club.

Gary Van Buhler and Mark Von Destinon, both of Belleville High School, related their experiences while participating in Wolverine Boys' State which is held every summer at East Lansing.

The week-long session is designed to provide practical experience in the mechanics of government through election to various posts in Boy's State and by observing actual governmental operations at different levels.

The two Belleville students were chosen by the high school counselors and sponsored financially by the local Kiwanis Club.

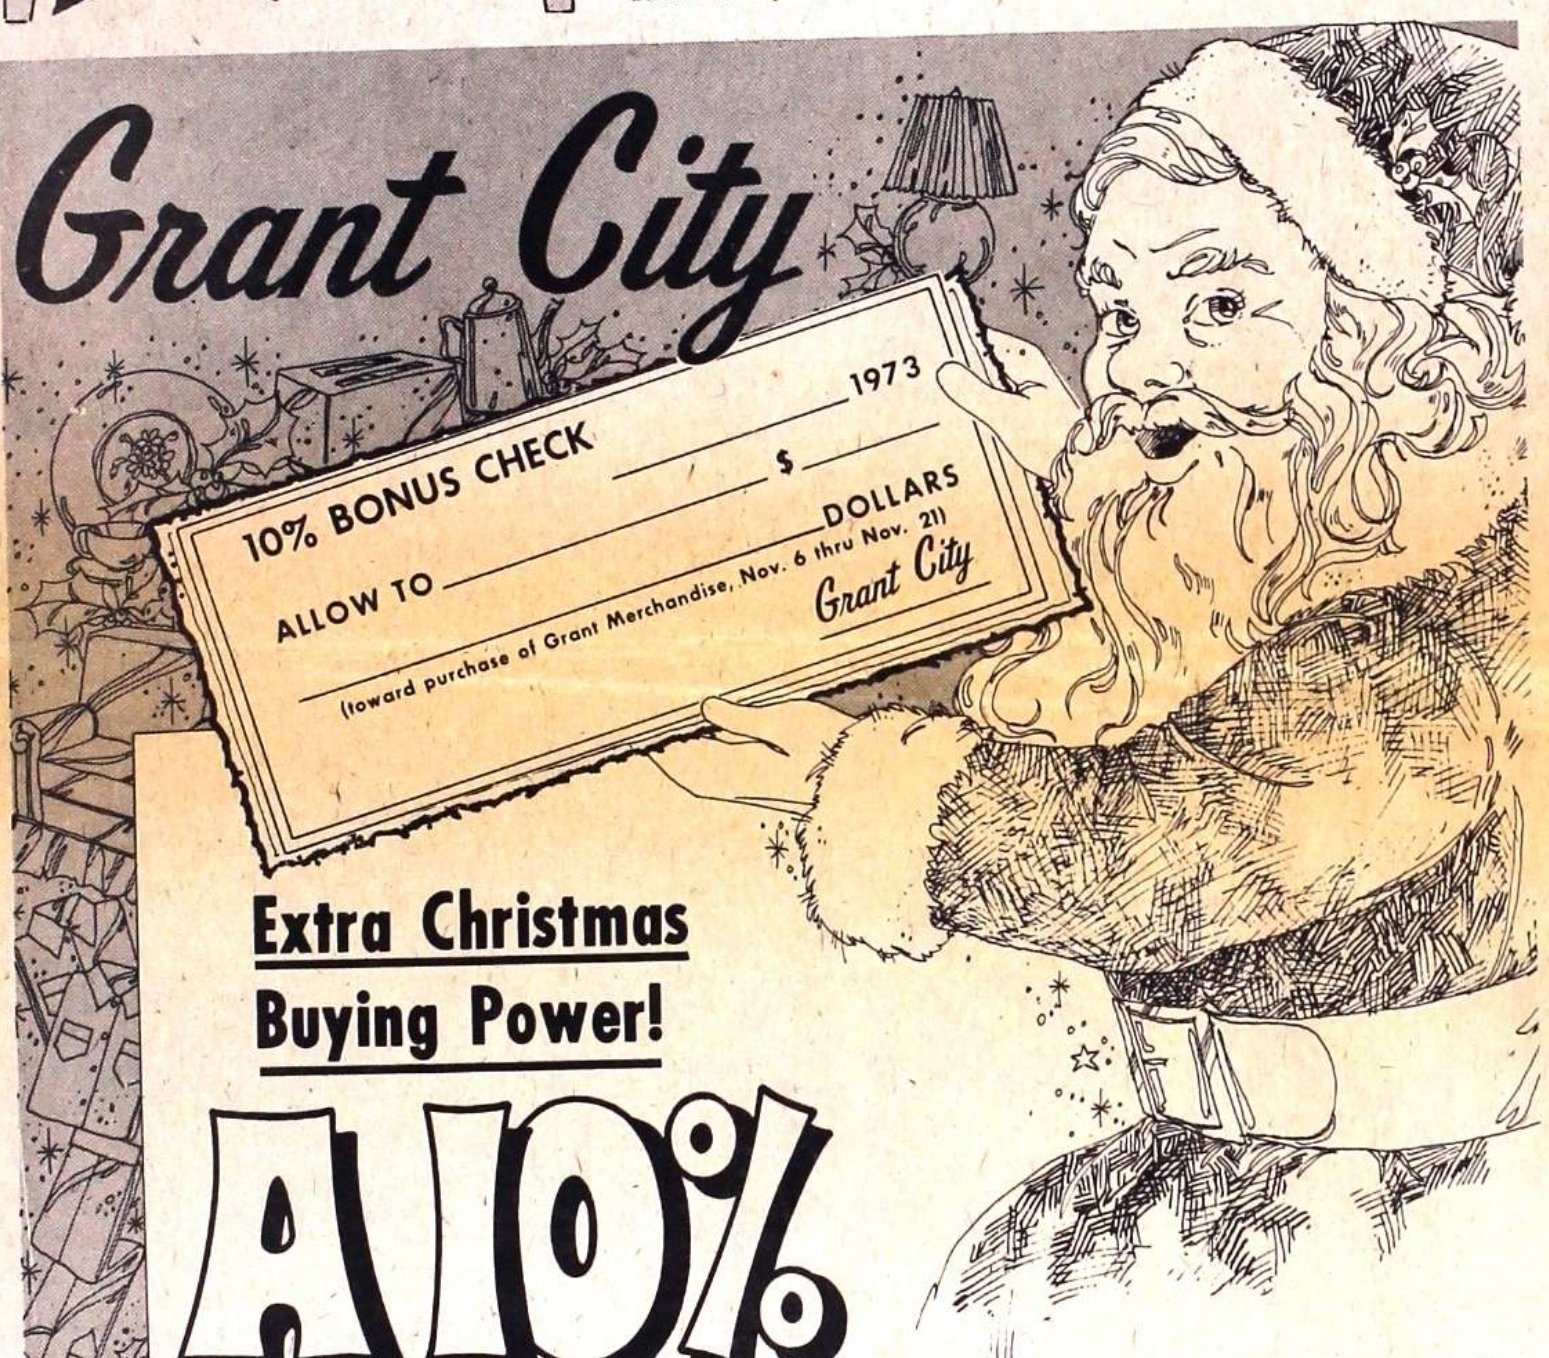

Kiwanis President "Bud" Stapleton said: "We're proud to have had a part in Gary's and Mark's experience—land this is just another example of the many community services provided by Kiwanis."

46-yard run. The Jaguars made it a 7-0 ball game when Larry Schonfeld successfully booted his first of three extra points.

Burke widened the margin in the third quarter when he capped a sustained drive with a one-yard TD plunge. Then, in the same quarter Mark Carnarvon tallied from the five, giving the visitors a commanding 21-0 advantage.

BELLEVILLE decided to play midway in the final stanza when Tiger quarterback Lee Stiltner staged a 70-yard drive with the help of a couple of first down passes to Joe Stillwagon and the running of Dan Theodore.

Theodore culminated the drive with a three-yard touchdown lunge. Then Stiltner picked out Stillwagon in the end zone and tossed to him for the two-point conversion.

For most of the evening Allen Park refused to let Belleville inside its 20-yard line.

Burke was the thorn in Belleville's defense as he rushed for 128 yards. His teammates had 283 yards on the ground and 18 in the air for a total of 301, while picking up 15 first downs.

Belleville piled up 10 first downs and a total of 126 yards, 82 on the ground and 44 passing.

Matt Byrnes, a guard and Bruce Ford, supplied the blocking for Theodore's rushes while Mike Stanley Jr., and tackle Greg Brown came up with exceptional games.

Gary Adkins, with seven solos and 11 assists including three tackles that decked Allen Park's quarterback for huge losses, led the defense. Teammates Bill Kinsella and Ford stood out in the defensive backfield.

TOUCHDOWN-BOUND — Plowing through Allen Park's defenses is Belleville's Dan Theodore (with ball) who scored the Tigers' lone TD in Friday night's setback to the Jaguars. Theodore's running and touchdown were the bright spots in a rather dismal Belleville performance. — Enterprise Roman photo.

Open forum on amputee's right to play

By TOM MOORADIAN

Should an amputee be allowed to play high school football?

That is the question I passed to some of our area prep grid coaches, and here's what they had to say:

GEORGE LOVICH, (Livonia Franklin): "Without a doubt, a player who has lost a limb should be given permission to play. There is one qualification, however, and that is the handicapped player should pad the limb so that he will not get hurt, or anyone else injured."

JOE LASCOLA, (Cherry Hill): "Definitely. The rule should be amended in order that if an amputee can put some sort of protection over the wood so that it won't be dangerous, then I can't see why not. If he has enough courage to go out there and play football, then God bless him."

JIM STALLINGS, (Romulus): "I don't see why not. I can't see penalizing the kid more than he has already been. I'm also wrestling coach and in the past years I have seen boys come on the mats who have worse handicaps than the boy in Huron. If blind and deaf, polio victims, boys who have lost legs and arms can go on to the mats and wrestle, then I think a boy who has lost a limb and has the courage to play football, should be able to play football."

ARNICE JAMES, (Inkster): "The boy should be able to play as long as he doesn't endanger anyone with the artificial limb or cause further harm to himself. I can sympathize with the youngster. If I had a boy in that situation, I would push him to play, that is, if the doctors would permit."

KEITH EMERSON, (Belleville): "Yes. If he and his parents want to take the risk, then he should have the opportunity to do so. No one should ever be denied the chance to compete in the red-blooded game of football."

JIM MUNEIO, (Canton-Plymouth): "I feel that as long as the handicapped player's welfare is not threatened, that if there is no possibility of him further injuring himself or others because of the limb, he should be allowed to play. I feel strongly that just because a guy has an amputated limb, it should not disqualify him from football or any other sport."

ROBERT YAUCK, (Robichaud): "You have to give any player who has such a handicap all the credit in the world for coming out there and competing, but it is my sincere feeling that a handicapped player's contribution is limited to the team and there is always the possibility that he may injure someone else or himself. I have had cases, though not similar to the one that has recently received so much publicity. What we try to do is to get the handicapped person involved in sports not by direct participation but as a statistician or team manager."

Letters to the Sports Editor

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

It is inconceivable to me how the Michigan High School Athletic Association could adopt such a rule to prevent a boy who has a handicap such as Ron Suemnick does from playing football.

Here is a boy with the guts to overcome a serious handicap to prove he can play ball, and what do the state high school officials do—PENALIZE HIM.

You hear so many bad things about youngsters and teenagers today, but what happens when a boy wants to do something that is constructive with his life—the adults tell him you have a handicap, so we don't need you.

If there is anything I can do to help this boy and others like him to play football, please let me know what to do.

Thank you.

Truly,
Mrs. John Davis
Westland

Dear Mrs. Davis,

There is no help for Ron, now, but as he pointed out he would like to fight the rule "so that others like him in the future may have the right to play."

The Michigan High School Athletic Association shouldn't be blamed for this incident, though. After all, they are trying to protect the handicapped player and others from injuries.

The MHSAA moreover doesn't even have a rule pertaining to such cases. It has adopted a national rule.

However, as one of the coaches pointed out yesterday, "that rule could be amended."

If you, or any fan, wishes to help, write to the Michigan High School Athletic Association, 815 Washington Square Building, 109 West Michigan, Lansing, Michigan.

I'm sure that Al Bush, the MHSAA director, would be more than happy to hear from you.

And here's another.

Dear Mr. Mooradian,

You probably have heard and read of Pete Gray, the one-handed athlete who refused to quit despite his handicap. He

Romulus season ends on sour note, 23-6

A football season that began with positive anticipation concluded quietly last Friday for Romulus High, as the Redskins of Oak Park polished off the Eagles, 23-6, for a representative ending to a nightmare of a season.

The defeat, riddled with fumbles and little action on the part of Romulus, flung the Eagles still further down the tunnel of dismay to a final 1-7 record. Their only victory came at the expense of River Rouge three weeks ago, 12-0.

"Yes, it's been a frustrating season," summed up the first-year Eagle head coach Jim Stallings. "At the beginning we thought we had the potential to do well, but we couldn't get everything together."

STALLINGS WILL have the nucleus of his club back next year since there are only 14 seniors on the team. And, if it is any consolation, the Eagle junior varsity squad enjoyed one of its best seasons this year, and will promote several of its stars to the senior club next year.

The loss to Oak Park was typical of the kind of season Romulus suffered through from start to finish. The Eagles fumbled the ball away twice on legitimate drives while having a pass intercepted on another.

The only worthwhile bright spot in the game for the Eagles, claimed Stallings, was the defensive work of Henry Reid, Roy Hollis and Mike Ellix.

The Redskins, who finished their campaign with a 2-6 mark, put the first six points on the board in the opening period after tackling the Romulus punter on his own 15-yard-line following a bad snap. The attempted conversion run failed and score remained 6-0 until midway through the second stanza.

THEN, ANOTHER BAD

snap to the Eagle punter resulted in his being tackled in his own end zone for a two-point safety for Oak Park.

Romulus clicked in the third quarter on a 26-yard TD pass from Mike Morrison to Irving Gibson to cap a 63-yard drive. Larry Courtney's 21-yard run and Romulus' only three first downs highlighted the six-play march. The two-point conversion run by Andre Parson failed, however, and the score stood at 8-6 Oak Park until just three minutes remained in the game.

At that point, the Redskins tallied twice, one of them on a disputed play. On the first TD of the period, Romulus had only eight players on the field because of a time out, according to Stallings when the officials began play and Oak Park ran over the undermanned defensive squad.

The final score was handed to Oak Park after a Romulus fumble on its own 11.

Romulus totaled just 98 yards on offense—61 rushing and 37 passing. Quarterback Bradley Smith completed two of four passes and Mike Morrison one of one.

Hollis led the scanty Eagle rushing attack with 22 yards in seven carries. Romulus recovered two of Oak Park's three fumbles, but couldn't stop fullback Randy Craighead, who rambled for 90 yards.

Bo criticizes playoffs

ANN ARBOR — Football players do have to study once in a while and for that reason Coach Bo Schembechler of the University of Michigan doesn't think there should be national major college playoffs...unless.

If a couple regular season games were lopped off the schedule, however, playoffs would be feasible and would be a good way to determine national champions, he believes.

"Because of financial problems schools have increased the number of games in a season from nine to 10 and then to 11," Schembechler said Monday at a news luncheon.

"THERE ISN'T any way it is possible to have playoffs. Besides, I don't see how anybody can say we should have playoffs and still keep kids in school."

"If they could do something to reduce the schedule I'd be for it."

"As it is we start practicing in August and play through November. If you go to a bowl game that's another month. That's a whole semester of football."

"Usually there are three

New Boston Huron has one more chance to snap a four-game losing streak. And it could be the Chiefs' best opportunity of the year.

Coach Jim Rossow's contingent runs up against Woodhaven in their season finale Friday night at home. Woodhaven is a newly-opened high school that is fielding a team of underclassmen.

Rossow is quick to point out that their visitors aren't pushovers.

"They are quick with excellent team speed," said the Chiefs' mentor, "and we will have to contain that speed. We also have to get some sort of offensive game going for us. You can't win ball games without scoring. I don't care what anyone says."

HURON didn't score any points as Grosse Ile took advantage of the Chiefs' ineptness and young quarterback to ring up a 28-0 victory in the league's final game.

The loss left the Chiefs with a 1-6 record and a share of seventh place with Monroe Jefferson.

Monroe Catholic Central, which vacated the Huron Conference throne two years ago when Tecumseh began its rule, is back on the throne after winning all of its league tests. The Monroe club amassed a 7-0 record.

Freshman Craig Beattie was forced into duty as quarterback after three of his teammates who held down the job were shoved to the sidelines with injuries.

"Would you believe that the three QB's we had suffered a broken foot, a broken arm and a broken hand?" asked Rossow.

Because of Beattie's inexperience, the Chiefs stuck to basic type plays and they didn't pose any problems for the Islanders who cashed in on a poor snap from center, a couple of screen passes and a kickoff return for touchdowns.

One of the bright spots in the Chiefs' game was the running of Dave Durham who rushed for 88 yards on 22 attempts. Linebacker Jake Craaven also came through with an outstanding performance on defense.

Bulldogs need game

Dearborn Heights Robichaud is seeking an opponent to complete its 1974 football schedule.

Bob Yauck, the newly-appointed athletic director at the high school, said it is seeking a game for Sept. 13, 1974. Yauck may be reached by calling 565-1900.

Playoffs criticized

(Continued from Page B-1) weeks in December when a kid can study for final exams. What would he do here if we had playoffs?

"WE AREN'T a pro team, you know. You've got to think of what playoffs would do to these kids."

Schembechler said that from an interest standpoint the playoff idea is good.

"But look, a freshman is playing before he's made any mark in school and you're going to expect him to go through a whole season and still be able to do well in school. Let's face it, that's tremendous pressure on a college football player."

Michigan is ranked fourth in the Associated Press poll of sportswriters and broadcasters. The final rankings are tabulated after the Jan. 1 bowl games.

ARCHIVAL OHIO State is No. 1. The Buckeyes tangle with Michigan at Ann Arbor on Nov. 24 in the game which could determine the Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl representative. U-M has an 8-0 record and OSU a 7-0 mark. Both teams own 5-0 conference records.

Most immediate obstacle for the Wolverines, however, is Illinois this Saturday at home. The Illini were unbeaten in conference play until a 30-0 loss to Ohio State over the weekend.

"We haven't faced a real dogfight yet," Schembechler said. "We haven't been in a situation where a team has scored first against us or where we had to come from behind. I think that could happen this week."

Former Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty has been elected to the Citizens Savings of Los Angeles College Football Hall of Fame.

BALL THIEF — Hustling back after picking off an Allen Park errant pass is Belleville's Hubert Russell (32) who got 10 yards before he was nailed. Belleville also was decked 21-8 for its fifth Suburban 8 Conference loss in seven starts.

Sports meridian went on and proved he could play professional baseball, making a name for himself with the old St. Louis Browns during the good old years.

Who's to say that the boy out there in New Boston also won't do the same? Who are we to condemn a boy because he has lost a leg or an arm or is handicapped?

Aren't we all handicapped in some way or other?

More power to that boy in New Boston who can fight back and make the team on his merits alone. I'm sure this kid is great because no football coach in his right mind is going to use a player with such a handicap unless that player can prove he deserves the position.

And, I think it's high time that we, as adults, quit building barriers for youngsters who have "handicaps."

Sincerely,
Mark Bilenski
Garden City

P.S. I really enjoy your column.

In seven days, the trials and tribulations of the 1973 high school football season will be history.

During the 117 games played by area prep teams there were many exciting moments captured as a piece of memory to be recalled in later years as a part of the "good old days."

But one facet of the season that stands out above all to me was something that was accomplished not by the football players or their coaches but by their fans.

In previous years one had almost accepted violence as a way of life after prep games - and these melees were well-publicized. But, as if by the wave of some sort of magic wand, that violence, those melees were absent this year not only from the local scene but statewide.

There has not been one serious student confrontation - and, this is a credit to the schools and fans who have much in stake in their programs.

IN THE PAST we have publicized these students brawls and now we are only happy to commend the students for their help in keeping high school sports an enjoyable and pleasurable experience.

I also feel that the "Sportsmanship Message" printed in Wayne Memorial's football programs each week also helps convey the message of understanding between rivals and fans.

In part, the message reads: "These are high school athletes performing here tonight. They are friendly rivals as members of opposing teams. They are not enemies..."

"This, basically, is the theme of interscholastic athletics...the idea of friendly competition...Interscholastic athletics are for sportsmen both on the field and in the stands."

THOUGH COACHES may sigh with relief this weekend, there is much to do before the sports department can wrap up the season. Heading the agenda are picking the coveted All-Area Football Teams and the Coach of the Year.

In previous years we opened up the selections to the readers, this year we have decided against it.

We feel the coaches know the players the best and, with their cooperation either in the form of a general meeting or a survey via telephone, the team will be picked by our department.

As we pointed out in our Special Football Section, so many wins and losses ago, there is plenty of prep talent in this area. For example, who would you want to quarterback your mythical team: Dave Radley (Wayne Memorial), Larry Casey (Livonia Franklin), Terry Dobbs (Garden City West), or Mark Roncoli (Livonia Churchill).

That is just one of the many questions we will have to answer in the next few days.

WHAT ABOUT THE selection of the year's best coach? There are a few of those around, as always, this season. Candidates like George Lovich, whose Patriots at Livonia Franklin have compiled eight consecutive victories; Ken Kaestner, who won the award last year and is a strong contender again after Churchill came up with a 6-2 season. Also, no one can eliminate Inkster's A.C. James from the running. After all, James has guided a handful of Vikings to a 6-2 record, the best over-all record at the high school since 1958.

James not only had to overcome such handicaps as a teachers' strike which jeopardized the start of the season but also has to put together a team without the benefit of a junior varsity program.

We have our problems, as you can see.

But they are the sort of problems we enjoy.

For UAW women

Pay, job opportunities are issues

By KAY DeBORD
Enterprise-Roman Writer

Equal pay, equal opportunities for job advancement, pregnancy leave on a temporary disability basis, and child care centers for the children of working mothers are the issues of primary interest to working women.

These facts, the legislation affecting them, the enforcement of laws already passed in regard to the issues were topics of the Women's Biennial Conference of United Auto Workers Regions 1-1A-1B and 1E, held recently, at the Sheraton Motor Inn, Romulus. Theme of the conference was "Changing Patterns of the 70's."

The women assembled at the meeting were told by Caroline Davis, director of the UAW's Women's Department, "We've come a long way in the last 20 years, but we're still not first class citizens. The Equal Rights for Women Amendment was passed in 1972, but it took 48 years to do it. They (legislators) let the bill lay around, but Congresswoman Martha Griffiths, (D-Mich.), grabbed the ball and ran with it."

Michigan was one of the first states to ratify the amendment, which must be ratified by 38 states in order to be added to the Constitution. So far, 30 of the 38 have ratified.

THE LACK of day care centers for the children of the 18-million working women in the United States was also cited by Ms. Davis, who pointed out that most countries are far more advanced than the U.S. in that respect.

"We can thank President Nixon for that. He vetoed the Federal child care program, but on the same day he passed a bill in the millions to help the rich with their taxes," she added.

The issue of pregnancy leaves for women workers has been taken to court by the UAW and the U.S. Labor Department, and a suit is currently pending against the Big Three auto makers, Ms. Davis reminded the women present.

The charges filed under Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 charge that General

Motors, Chrysler and Ford have "discriminated against female employees by providing sickness and accident benefits for disabilities related to pregnancy which are not comparable to benefits available for other non-occupational disabilities."

Present contracts with companies provide for up to 52 weeks of sick and accident benefits for disabilities other than those caused by pregnancy, and the UAW asserts the provisions not in compliance with the Equal Economic Opportunities Commission rulings.

According to Ms. Davis, the big job for women is to change their attitude and to change the attitudes of others. "If women would respect women as much as men respect men - we wouldn't have these problems."

THE ATTITUDES that need changing are related to a lot of myths about women that have come down through the years, Ms. Davis said. She cited "women's place is in the home," adding "if she can afford to live on one paycheck!"

"Another myth is that women work for pin money. Half of the women who work are single, widowed or divorced and are forced to work by economic pressure," she added.

Other myths exploded by Ms. Davis were that "women take jobs away from men," "women should stick to women's jobs," "employment of women leads to juvenile delinquency," and "men don't like to work for women."

She pointed out the women workers want the same things that men do, but even with all the new legislation and rulings, that women are still "hired last, paid least, promoted least and given the most boring jobs." But, she pointed out, "these things are being remedied."

THE MONDAY session included discussion of the need for legislation to help the poor in this country before money and materials are sent abroad, a health security program for America,

Belleville Hi plans open house

An open house will be held Nov. 7 at the Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

Parents and other citizens of the Van Buren Public School District are invited to attend the open house from 7:30 to 9 p.m.

The school's administrative staff, teachers, students, maintenance and custodial staff as well as the cafeteria personnel, presently are involved in preparations for the annual open house.

John P. Ford, school principal, urges parents to attend the open house and meet with the teachers and tour the high school facilities.

The high school music department will provide musical entertainment during the open house. Coffee and refreshments will be available in the cafeteria.

PLANNING OPEN HOUSE — Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville, will hold an open house starting at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 7. Planning the evening's program are (from left) Keith Carnahan, National Honor Society president; Bob Stough, student council president; John P. Ford, school principal, and Carlos Floirido, assistant high school principal.

Area farmer concerns governor of Michigan

Michigan Governor William Milliken has concern for the farmer in Romulus.

As reported more than a month ago in The Romulus Roman, the farmer in Romulus and other developing communities is experiencing hardships with increased taxes. Recognizing the pressure, Milliken has proposed bills to the Michigan Legislature which may relieve some of the pressure.

"Today, even while food shortages are growing in Michigan, the nation and the world, more and more farmers are under pressure to sell their land and get out," Milliken said. "The value of their land is growing faster than their income, especially in and near our large, growing cities."

"And, as a result, many farmers find themselves saddled with higher property tax bills."

Milliken said taxes are squeezing out farmers, by forcing them to sell their land—vacating hundreds of fertile acres for economic development, and putting more pressure on less land for food growing.

"My plan is to give farmers a break on their taxes in return for a pledge to keep their land in agriculture,"

Milliken said. "A farmer who signed such a contract with the state would be eligible for a rebate of all property taxes paid in excess or eight per cent of his total household income."

"I am urging the legislature to adopt my plan this fall, so his land-saving plan can go into effect the first of the year."

Journalism scholarship is offered

A scholarship in journalism in the name of the late J. Evens Campbell is being established The University of Michigan (U-M).

The scholarship, which will be self-perpetuating, will be open to all qualified U-M undergraduate students of journalism and will be awarded annually by the journalism department.

Senior Citizens Club observes birthdays

The first November meeting of the Belleville Senior Citizens Club recently held at the Edgemont Elementary School, 124 Edgemont St., Belleville, was highlighted with the observance of birthdays and anniversaries of club members.

The birthdays celebrated were those of Nora Amrhein, Emma Bawden, Effie Kerbyson, Ruth Bullard, Myrtle Wells, Ada Sager and Martha Coffelt.

Other birthdays honorees were Lillian Bernhardt, Nelson Nadeau, Henry Deering, Edwin Ball, Grace Dunn and Muriel Bearance. The anniversaries were those of William and Alice Buckberry, Harry and Sybil Wilkinson, Joseph and Genevieve Brooks and Art and Fannie Sullens. Games refreshments also were part of the evening's program.

The club will hold a bingo party tomorrow at the school with Clyde Wood as sponsor. After the bingo a social evening and card game will be held.

The club's Thanksgiving pot luck will be held on Nov. 15. State Rep. Gary M. Owen (D-Van Buren) will be the guest speaker.

A trip to Detroit in mid-December to see the Christmas decorations also is being planned. Club members will have their Christmas dinner which will be catered and furnished by the club in December.

For veterans

Rep. Mahalak eyes free game licenses

An area state representative has introduced a bill to allow senior citizens who are Veterans free small game hunting licenses.

The only other requirements would be that the veteran is a Michigan resident and that he was honorably discharged from the service. A senior citizen is defined as someone who is 65 years old or older.

Rep. Edward Mahalak (D-Romulus) said that earlier in the session the House passed a bill to enable senior citizens to obtain small game licenses for $1.

"I fully supported that bill," he said. "I believe that senior citizens deserve this small extra consideration. They have made their contributions to the state. We owe them this much. My bill goes a step beyond the earlier one by also taking into consideration the contributions and sacrifices of Veterans. They have served their state and nation. It is a small way of saying 'thank you' by giving them free small game licenses."

Mahalak said any revenue lost to the state would be minor.

"The state can easily absorb this slight monetary loss as a tribute to our older veterans," he said.

Small game licenses ordinarily cost $5 for Michigan residents and $25 for non-residents. Mahalak is chairman of the House Committee on Military and Veterans' Affairs. This latest bill is one of a number he has introduced this year to benefit veterans.

PLAIN TALK About The FUEL SHORTAGE!

When I first introduced Flex-O-Glass in 1924, I could never imagine that 50 years later America would be faced with a serious fuel shortage — in which Flex-O-Glass would be such an economical way of helping millions of homes stay warmer this winter. Flex-O-Glass saves both fuel and money. Homes protected against winter wind and zero weather with Warp's Flex-O-Glass can actually save up to 40% on fuel costs.

Hazardous highway condition prompts lawsuit

By HENRY CANTIN
"Hazardous" highway construction conditions in Canton Township, have prompted the township's administration to file a suit seeking to halt work on the Joy Road overpass of the I-275 Freeway. The Michigan State Highway Department and the Wayne County Board of Road Commissioners have been ordered to "show cause" why an injunction should not be issued against them to halt the work. The "show cause" hearing will be held at 2 p.m. Friday in Wayne County Circuit Court.

A similar lawsuit to stop construction of the overpass was being planned by attorneys representing residents of the Deer Creek

Apartment Complex, one of two large residential developments near the overpass "problems," according to reports.

THE CANTON Township Board of Trustees directed the township attorney to file the court action Oct. 30. The township action followed on the heels of a "show of force" meeting held on Oct. 29 called by residents of Holiday Park Subdivision and neighboring Deer Creek Apartments.

Both of these subdivisions are located on the southeast corner of I-275 and Joy Road. Directly across from these subdivisions is the Fiegel Elementary School.

Residents of these subdivisions strenuously are fighting the completion by the state highway department of the overpass on the contentions that the steep elevation present a "serious traffic hazard and poses a constant threat" to drivers as well as school children from the Fiegel school.

Several hundred residents attended a meeting at Fiegel school. The meeting ended by the residents re-emphasizing their intentions to "physically and bodily" prevent the pouring of the final section of cement on the eastern ramp of the overpass until some "hazardous traffic problems" are resolved, according to a spokesman.

SPEAKING FOR the concerned residents were E. Brian Schwall, township trustee; Tom Stevenson; Flossie Tonda, newly appointed Canton Township Planning Commissioner and safety chairman of the schools safety committee; and Frank McMurray, former chairman of the township's recreation advisory committee. All are residents of Holiday Park Subdivision.

State highway department representatives defended the design of the overpass and said that they were not aware of the problems aired by the residents until the meeting. State officials initially refused to halt the construction of the ramp but later agreed to meet with the residents again but only after a conference with highway department officials in Lansing.

They also agreed to install a metal guard rail and a chain link to further protect children walking to the pedestrian skywalk that soon is to be built for their use in reaching Fiegel school.

HOLIDAY PARK Subdivision has 550 homeowners and Deer Creek Apartment complex has 754 homeowners, who will band together on the unpaved portion of the ramp and "bodily block any attempt to pour the final section of concrete," said Stevenson, if state officials insist on carrying out the final phase of construction despite the protests.

According to the protests of area homeowners the street grade elevations coupled with the overpass elevation constitute a serious traffic hazard.

Canton Township Fire Chief Melvin Paulin told the state officials that "even a skier would have trouble" coming down the ramp. Robert Wade, of Wade, Trim & Associates, township planning consultants, also agreed that the steep elevation on the eastern side of the overpass "created a hazard."

Residents are concerned over the grade variance of Holly Drive, a major exit out of Holiday Park and Joy Road.

THE INCLINE in this area is more than a foot which makes it impossible for drivers successfully to negotiate turns especially during wet and icy road conditions.

Motorists who don't complete the turn within 10 seconds run the risk of being struck by east and westbound drivers using Joy Road, who will be coming down the ramp at 45 miles per hour, they said.

Similar traffic conditions exist for residents at the Deer Creek entrance when it is opened, they added. The nearness of these two driveways also poses an additional traffic hazard, the homeowners charge.

ROMULUS COMMUNITY SCHOOLS MINUTES

Special Board of Education meeting held September 24 called to order at 7:30 p.m. by President Boger. Roll call showed all members present: Messrs. McConeghy, Garfield and Janack were present. Addition to agenda - High School Security and Communications.

Media dilemma

Nixon's woes run parallel to Taft era

DEARBORN - Public relations problems, such as those burdening President Richard Nixon, are not unique to contemporary presidents, a University of Michigan-DeARBORN political scientist contends.

In a recently released book, William Howard Taft: A Conservative's Conception of the Presidency, Dr. Donald Anderson, associate professor of political science, notes that Taft was a popular president who "quickly frittered away his popularity."

Like Nixon, Taft came to believe that his troubles were caused by a conspiracy between the press and Progressives in Congress, says the UM-D professor.

ANDERSON'S BOOK outlines the problems of a man who, in the author's view, was probably too idealistic and legalistic for his own good. In fact, the UM-D political scientist doubts that Taft could be nominated today.

"The nominating process is much more open - an unglamorous man like Taft, with little experience in the rough-and-tumble of politics, would probably be eliminated before the convention," he observes. While a presidency such as Taft's might initially be a refreshing change after Watergate, he admits, Taft would probably fare no better today than he did more than half a century ago.

"A modern President needs even more experience in dealing with the media than in Taft's day," according to Anderson.

MANY OF TAFT'S PROBLEMS, such as his poor relations with the press and the more liberal members of his Republican party, suggest parallels with the problems of the Nixon administration.

Anderson sees Taft as much more similar in background to a man like Eliot Richardson, Taft, like Richardson, "had great respect for the rule of law and was willing to enforce the law."
